

Societies Treasurers Guide Book

October 2020

NUI Galway Society Funding:

The Role of the Treasurer:

The Treasurer and the Auditor are responsible for all financial transactions, for making sure all such transactions are properly accounted for and that all financial dealings are conducted in an honest and transparent manner. They are also responsible for ensuring that the financial end of year report is submitted on time and fully completed. The role of the treasurer is to complete all these tasks, but, in the event of the treasurer failing to fulfil their duties, the Auditor must make sure that they are completed. Failure to submit a report and account for all transactions and issue receipts for money received from the university will result in the Society receiving no additional funding. Failure to do so for two consecutive years will result in the Society being disbanded.

Being in charge of the finances is a serious job with a lot of responsibilities. You do not want to leave yourself open to possible accusations of wrongdoing. The best way to avoid any potential misunderstandings is to keep strict and detailed accounts. The Societies Officer and Finance Officer are there to help you. Avoid letting your accounts get out of control. If you ever feel completely lost or a little confused, please just ask for help. The Officers have years of experience between them and are more than happy to help you out with anything that is proving difficult. The longer you let a problem fester, the more time you will have wasted on needless worry and the harder the problem will be to solve.

It is mandatory to have two signatures on all withdrawals, both cash and cheque. All committee members must be staff or students of the University.

Receipts

Receipts are required for all money given to the societies by the University. It is mandatory to keep receipts for all transactions done through the societies' account(s), as the society will be expected to produce an end of year report at their AGM. Sponsors may also require information on how their money was spent and it certainly instils confidence in potential sponsors if they know that your society manages its finances well. A well-kept set of accounts is also an invaluable legacy for the incoming committee and is a strong basis for a society to build upon. If you are involved in charity fundraising your accounts will need to be above reproach. There are also restrictions on the amount of funding political societies may receive and you will be expected to produce this information for head office.

Finally, there is an immense sense of satisfaction when your accounts balance and you can sit back and bask in your committees admiration and praise for a job well done.

What needs to be done at the start of the year:

Password: Get your password for the finance website.

Signatories: This is who can sign off on cheques or withdrawal slips. At least two members of the Society must be signatories. This is usually limited to the Auditor, Vice Auditor and Treasurer. The Societies officer must also be a signatory. To change signatures you will require a photo ID (e.g. Student ID) and copy of your college registration form which can be downloaded as follows:

Go to <http://www.nuigalway.ie/student-registry-helpdesk/our-services/registration-statements/>

Log in with your student ID and password.

Click on 'Proof of registration' Smart Tab and print. Call to the bank of Ireland at the appointed time of which you will be notified by email to change the signatures on your account, if you do not know the account number the Societies office or SocsBox will be able to tell you.

On the plus side

Learning how to keep good accounts and being financially organized is a skill that will always prove useful. If you update your accounts regularly and follow the guidelines you should not experience any difficulty. The societies' office appreciates the task treasurers have and is always available to help out with updating accounts and budgeting for the year or even individual events. If you are planning any big events, it is well worth making an appointment as there are numerous cost saving deals currently in place for societies along with advice on fundraising. Check out the "Fun Things to Do" feature in your control panel on the socs website.

Budgeting:

Societies are funded according to the schedule of allowances, which can be found at the end of this handbook. In order to gauge financial requirements for the year, it is necessary for each society to put together a budget for the year. Once the budgets are submitted, it is then possible for the University Societies Coordination Group, the USCG, to make decisions on requests for extraordinary funding which falls outside the schedule of allowances.

To put together a budget, look at each area in the schedule of allowances and put together an activity plan of events or purchases you intend to make during the year. You can do this in two stages for semester one and semester two. Have your budget submitted by the deadline stated on the finance website. You will then receive a lump sum into your bank account, which can be topped up at a later stage if the original lump sum has been receipted appropriately. This can then be spent in accordance with the schedule of allowances as you organize activities. You must submit expenditure groups for each activity and once the receipts are submitted this amount will be deducted from your budget allocation. You do not have to strictly follow your initial budget! In the event that a planned expenditure falls through or gets altered substantially, simply submit the expenditure under the appropriate schedule of allowance category.

It is not necessary, or indeed, advisable to over inflate your intended level of activity in the fear that "if I don't ask for it I won't get it". Budgeting and planning are fluid and will be revisited again in January to give each society an opportunity to reassess their plans and make adjustments accordingly. If you require assistance compiling your budget please make an appointment with the Finance Officer or Societies Officer.

As can be seen from last years end of year accounts, societies achieve huge turnover annually. This information can only be collated if each treasurer keeps their online accounts balanced and up to date. This information is invaluable both from a planning point of view but also as an indication of society activity levels (any group that has a turnover of a million must be taken seriously!)

Schedule of Allowance:

Is the guideline you use when calculating the amount of money you may request and reasonably expect to receive for any activity. As the Schedule of Allowances is updated regularly, please check out the up to date version on the finance website. A detailed breakdown of each category can be found at the back of this book. In the event that your request falls outside the schedule of allowances, an extraordinary funding request can be made to the USCG (please refer to the need for submitting budgets). Please contact the Societies Officer or Finance Officer for submittals to the USCG. As agendas are posted one week prior to the USCG meeting, it is advisable to get your requests in at least one week prior to the meeting.

How to Make & Submit a Budget:

The budget is broken into 14 categories, matching the schedule of allowances.

To create a budget, go to the “Budget Request” section of the finance website (Table 1.1). To alter a categories budget total, click the category you wish to alter. This will redirect you to a new window containing questions. (Table 1.2) Fill in all the boxes and give a rough breakdown of expenses where possible in details. These are projected costs and are not expected to be exact. Click “Submit”. Then click “Back to Budget Estimation Menu”. Rinse and repeat until you have filled in all the categories you wish to claim under, then click the “Submit Budget” button at the bottom

Budget Assessment and Resubmission

Please note that your Budget Request will be assessed and an amount of money will be lodged to your account. You can keep track of this under the “Receipt and Request Inbox” section. This amount is counted as a loan to your society. You pay off this loan by spending money in accordance with the schedule of allowance and submitting receipts from said expense. Your expenditure does not need to match your budget exactly. It’s very common for events to be cancelled or altered and for the originally assigned money to end up in a different category. If this occurs, you just need to submit the expense as normal. You do not need to resubmit your budget. If you require a top fund, please submit another budget after ensuring your submitted expenditure is up to date

Expenditure

A big part of a treasurer's job is tracking society expenditure. The following is a step-by-step guide of adding expenditures to the finance website & then submitting it for approval.

Step 1 Create an Expenditure Group

When submitting expenditures, you submit them together under specific groups, e.g. a society trip would have all its expenses (accommodation, travel, etc.) under one group. This makes it very easy to see how much an event cost you and makes it easier for the Finance Officer to instantly see whether or not you've kept within the limits of the Schedule of Allowance. Group names should be called something you will understand immediately, e.g. Rome Trip, EGM, Galaxy Quest Showing.

- A. Click "Expenditure"
- B. Click "Title"
- C. Type in the name of your expenditure group
- D. Click

"Add" A. & B.

Step 2 Fill in an Expenditure Form

Underneath the expenditure group form you should see the individual Expenditure Form. This must be filled out for EVERY society related expenditure. Each section of this form is explained below.

- Date: The date of the transaction, preferably how it appears on the bank statement

 - Type: How the money left the bank account. Please note: Bank Cash is cash taken out via a withdrawal slip. Cash is society money that was spent but was never lodged in the bank account.

 - Transaction No.: The transaction number as it appears on the bank statement. In the case of cheques, the cheque no.

 - Payee: Who was paid for the good or service. Please note: If paying back a committee member for covering an expenditure, e.g. pizza for a meeting, the payee is the pizza company not the committee member.
 - Total: The expenditure amount.
 - Category: How it will appear on the balance sheet.
 - Description: Information on what the actual expense is.
- Cheque Recon: Only applies to cheque type expenditures. If you have written a . cheque but it has not appeared on your bank statement, do not tick this. This allows you to keep a record of the cheque without it affecting your expense total. Once it has been cashed go back into the expenditure and tick this box
- Add to Expenditure Group: Which group this will be submitted under (see expenditure groups above)

Total: Received amount

For Approval: Tick this if you are spending any of your budget money. This will allow you to submit the expenditure for approval later.

Step 4 Submit Expenditure Group

Repeat steps 2 & 3 until all expenses have been added to a group. When you know a group has all its expenses added, you can submit it for approval. Once approved, it will subtract from the total owed to the university and mean you are well on your way to being a fantastic treasurer. To submit an expenditure group:

- A. At the top of the expenditure page, choose the expenditure group from “Select Expenditure Group”. Then click “View by Expenditure Group”. This will cause only the expenditures related to this group to appear
- B. Scroll to the bottom of the page and a summary box will appear. (Table 2.7) If it does not, this means you have not added a receipt for approval to any expenditure. (See Step 3)
- C. Click the dropdown list beside “Receipts Request Category” and pick the appropriate category.
- D. Fill out the questionnaire (Table 2.8)
- E. Click “Submit”

This is then sent over to the Societies Office for approval. You can keep track of its status in the “Receipt and Request Inbox”

3. Please note Business online operates better on chrome but should operate on any browser.

4. Set up a payee and email the finance@socs.nuigalway.ie with the name of the payee and it will be authenticated by this office

5. Make your payment. – This automatically comes through to the Socsbox and payment will be authorised from this office. The finance page is checked and if the transaction has not been entered on the finance page the payment is IGNORED and you will not be emailed about it.

6. Transaction number – if it is a cheque – the transaction number is the cheque number.

If it is a bank transfer - the transaction number is the 9 digit number issued by the bank when the payment is saved.

Where a transaction is a reimbursement to a committee member - the payee is the supplier eg Apache Pizza and the person being reimbursed is named in the description box.

7. When reimbursing a committee member for a number of transactions – a expenditure needs to be entered on the finance page for each transaction but you can do one bank transfer for the total and give each expenditure the same transaction number – the 9 digit bank number – totalling the amount of the transfer. It is essential to trace amounts later if the accounts don't balance.

8. When putting up payments on online banking after 4pm – please enter the date of the next working date.

Income

Income is very similar to the first part of expenditure submittal but does not have groups or require any actual submitting. Go to the income section of the finance website and use the following steps to add an income. Please note that any items sold through the SocsBox will be added as an income automatically, as will your budget. The only time you will need to add an income is if you sell an item yourself, you receive outside sponsorship or submitting a donation.

Step 1 Fill in the form (Table 3.1)

Date: The date of the transaction, preferably how it appears on the bank statement

- Type: How the money entered the bank account. Please note: Cash is society money that has not been lodged in the bank account. Individual types explained below.
- Source: How the money was raised
- Transaction No.: The transaction number as it appears on the bank statement. In the case of cheques, the cheque no.
- Amount: The amount being lodged.
- Details: Information on what the income is.

Step 2 Click "Submit"

Income Types;

Cash: This is for cash which is not lodged to your account this should only be done in emergency as best practice is to lodge all cash collected at events to your account in total before any of it is spent. Where possible use cheques to pay expenses as this avoids confusion.

Cheque: Make sure to order a cheque book at the start of the year if you do not have one and that all cheque books are returned to the societies office to hand over to your new committee. Lost cheques books must be reported to the bank so they can be cancelled.

Credit card: Use this option if you use a personal credit card to pay for something on line and make sure the person is reimbursed there must be a corresponding expenditure for this income.

Lodged to bank: For all cash collected which appears in your bank statement. Any withdrawn cash which is unspent must be re lodged into your account.

Fundraising: money received from fund raising events.

Ticket Sales /Ball/Classes: If you hold both a ball and other events where money is taken on the door you will need 2 separate columns other wise insert which ever heading is relevant.

Members Contribution; This is the money members pay towards society activities eg transport, accommodation, conference attending, equipment necessary for society activity but not for food or drink bought by members while engaging in society activities. Eg your society goes on a trip and the bus costs €800, under the schedule of allowances you have received 50% the remaining €400 has to come from somewhere and unless you have received sponsorship it is most likely from your members paying their contribution. In order for your books to balance if you have paid out €800 then you must also have an income of €800.

Greenform/Credit card On occasion the Societies officer may pay on your behalf eg ordering equipment in this instance the income and expenditure will be automatically added to your finance system

USC / Socsbox / Mucailt Please note that all funds from the USC and the Socsbox and Muscailt are automatically entered in your income with accompanying lodgement number, in some cases a number of requests will be paid together so each of these will be referenced with the same lodgement number. Do not add this into your income when you see it on your bank statement as it has already been added. Note you can click on the socsbox link which will bring you into details of the funds

Bank Account

The first thing you must do in order to balance your accounts is to log on the finance website and check your bank account archive to see the date of the last closing balance. Any transactions which have taken place since that balance must be included in the income and expenditure section of the online system. The previous 3 months of transactions are available online and earlier bank statements are available from the Societies office. This is particularly important to do at the start of the year as the last years committee may have done some transactions since their account was archived and you will need to get the details from last year's treasurer, do this early in the year as unaccounted transactions at the end of semester one will mean that the society cannot receive funds in semester two. Good practice suggests that you should balance your books regularly, at least once a month. Get an up to date statement and enter your latest bank balance and the date and include any cash in hand which has not been logged yet. Note: All cash should be lodged to your bank account as a paper trail is very important to ensure transparency. Any coin that cannot be lodged (partially filled bags – one bag per denomination) can be brought to the Societies office and it will be lodged for you.

Note a society can have more than one bank account (ie. for a ball if this is being managed by a sub-committee). You must then have one person responsible and accountable for this account. You must also request a login for this new on line account which the Societies officer will create for you. In the Societies End of year book the Societies main account balance sheet will be published. The additional accounts will be entered as one income and one expenditure with the opening and closing bank balances adjusted to take all the balances into account.
