Societies Officer Introduction

This year there were 82 active societies in NUI Galway. In September on Societies Day 5,813 signed up to societies. The Societies have a combined membership of 22,881 (18% increase on last year's figures) with students joining an average of 3.86 societies.

According to the Societies' on-line calendar they organised 1553 events from September 2008 – August 2009. What is interesting is that only 20% of Societies' money comes from the university. Only 23% of all advertised events were funded. A total of 360 events received funding and 38 conferences were attended. 72 Guest Speakers were invited, 11 intervarsities/conferences were organised, 10 publications produced and 229 other events were also funded. Many society events require or receive no funding as self-funding events such as balls, table quizzes, concerts etc do not receive funding. The Society Balls bring in 33% of Societies funds. 18% of total funds come in from fundraising and sponsorship provides 6% of total funding, which is on a par with last year despite the recession. The hardest hit by the recession this year was the charity fundraising which fell by 50%. However despite the economic downturn in all other areas except charity fundraising the societies' expenditure this year was only down 3.5% on last year.

Societies also receive funding for equipment and materials and travel. Societies organised 64 trips, 18 of which were abroad. 1231 members travelled of which 317 travelled abroad to numerous destinations including Berlin, Las Vegas, Riga and Stockholm

Many high profile guest speakers attended the university at the invitation of the societies and many landmark events were organised by them. Who will forget the visit of Archbishop Desmond Tutu and Bob Geldof, one of the last events to take place in the Hall in Áras na Mac Léinn before it was shut down to start work on transforming the building.

It was also a challenging year as Áras na Mac Léinn became a building site in semester two but the societies continued their activities unabated in anticipation of the new building to come and their new dedicated spaces.

Societies enrich the social, community and cultural life of the campus with their presence. They bring colour and excitement to the University which enriches all of our lives. By organising events of educational, cultural, social and humanitarian value they broaden our perspectives and enhance the university experience for their fellow students while contributing to both the local community and the wider world.

In the last seven years they have contributed €1,409,000 to charity. To celebrate this community engagement and giving, a new society award was introduced this year at the NUI Galway awards and was also introduced at national level at the Board of Irish College Awards. NUI Galway VSA Society won this award in the large college section.

Our societies were particularly successful at the BICS National Awards this year winning 4 of a possible 9 awards, more than any other college. Congratulations to Law Soc for winning Most Improved Society, Peter Mannion their auditor for winning Best Individual and choral society for winning best website.

I hope you enjoy the insight which this report gives to Societies on campus please read their individual reports, in their own words, which include all their events as they post them to their on-line calendar. It provides an insight into our students and gives reason to celebrate the high calibre of them as individuals and the significant contribution the make to all our lives as a collective

Archaeology Society

As a society we organise events to introduce members to each other and for students from each year to meet up. There is also the opportunity for speakers from outside the university to give talks on various fields of expertise through the society's guest speaker evenings. These are held to inform and broaden a knowledge of research being carried out by those in archaeology and related aspects.

This was a year in which the society went to Scotland for the foreign trip where the base was situated in Edinburgh. There was the usual mix of guest speakers that came to speak to members over the year. In association to this there was a film night and two coffee mornings were organised during the year. A field trip to Athenry, Co Galway provided the opportunity for a graduate of NUIG, Dr Jim McKeown, to lead a group around this town which was his area of study.

Arch Soc Events

Other Information

We held 27 committee meetings during the year. We have not held our AGM yet. Our total membership stands at 161 members.

Art Society

The Art Society aims to bring Art to the masses of NUI Galway AND to bring those interested in art together to better their skills and socialise. We employ a tutor to give classes every Tuesday to our members; this is free of charge to them. The subject of the classes vary year on year but we always begin in September with perspective drawing as this is essential, before moving onto life drawing, clay modelling, working with plaster of paris, etc: Basically a crash-course in the first year of Art College.

The high point of Art Soc's year is the exhibition we hold during during the Múscailt festival, in which we showcases our members' work and hold the launch of our annual art publication; the exhibition is opened by either a distinguished artist or art patron. In this respect Art Soc also aims to get its budding talents out there in the wider world and attempts to get recognition for its members and their work.

Art Soc Events

This year the society had a total of 24 events that took place. These events can be divided into two categories: regular and special events.

Regular Events

This year we held 1 event that ran regularly over a number of weeks. This event was as follows:

Life Drawing ran for 3 weeks in Racquet Court B, beginning on Tuesday, 11/11/2008.

Our famous workshop in nude life-drawing starts this week. The essential anatomy and foreshortening study that every budding-artist needs for any kind of human representation, either in fine art, comicbook art, etc.

Special Events

This year we held 21 special events. These events were as follows:

Committee Calling & First Class! » AC214 (subject to change:check emails!) on Tuesday, 7/10/2008. First Class: Perspective Drawing! Get to grips with the simple measurement and angle techniques essential for capturing anything and everything! You will be supplied with an art pad and pencil and let loose on corridors and classrooms, under expert tuition and guidance. Also the 08/09 leftover committee positions will be filled tonight at a brief meeting before classes. Check the Societies Handbook at the socsbox to get to know the details of each committee member!

Art Class » Racquet Court 2, Sports Hall on Tuesday, 14/10/2008.

This Week's Topic: Still Life. Examine & Sketch a great variety of challenging textures and materials, including textiles, organic matter, reflective surfaces, etc, under helpful and expert tuition. A new room for classes has been allocated for us, which means better storage facilities, better space and, best of all.....EASELS! Afterwards, the Art Society Committee 08/09 will embark on their first official night out since their formation!

Clay Sculpture I » The Hub on Tuesday, 28/10/2008.

Get your €2.50 tickets from the Socsbox in advance for one of the most anticipated events in the the Art Soc calender! A very cultured evening is a head of us: the college's current exhibition on ceramics will be visited first for inspiration and critiquing. Then model, tutor and guest ceramicist will be provided for this two-part head sculpting class. Just note there is a max. of 30 people (thus the tickets) and that those attending the first class will need to go to the second to finish off their art. See you all there; remember to bring a plastic bag and wear clothes you don't mind getting caked in clay!

Lunatic Fringe Art Mag Contributions » Through Email and Classes on Saturday, 1/11/2008. Email to society at artsoc@socs.nuigalway.ie or come discuss and collaborate at our weekly publication meet. We accept comic strips, sketch book pages, random drawings, experimental art & prose, reviews, articles, stories, and any old artsy nonsense...

Clay Sculpture II » The Hub on Tuesday, 4/11/2008.

Sorry: can only be attended by all those who came last week! Stay tuned for the next set of art classes: the essential crash-course in nude life-drawing!

Prague Info Session » AM104 on Tuesday, 25/11/2008.

Ever wanted to know where the term "Bohemian" was coined? Artsoc goes to Eastern Europe to find out. Come tonight to get the info: the cost (a nice sizeable chunk paid by our travel budget...), the duration of stay, accommodationodation, which lucky airline gets our money, and to bring any and all of your questions to our lovely Travel Officer. We also intend to find out:

WHAT does the Dancing House look like..

WHY are Prague's teenagers so obsessed with John Lennon...

HOW MANY architectural styles can one city show off...

WHERE did Franz Kafka, the God of student pseudo-intellectualism, get his inspiration.....

Exhibition Brainstorm! » Smokeys on Tuesday, 20/1/2009.

Come for a sit down, coffee and a doodle with ArtSoc! Starting at 7pm in Smokeys, we're breaking in new members and catching-up with old by discussing and sharing our ideas for what we'll do, or are planning to do, for the "Mise Era" exhibition. A great chance to brush up on your own neglected drawing. Sketch-pads and pencils provided. Bring brain and chat!

Exhibition Show and Tell » AM104 on Tuesday, 27/1/2009.

Have space to work on your piece, or idea, in the AM104 classroom. Show your work, get advice, help with the preparations for the Múscailt show; we have a lot of ideas!

Deadline for Pieces and Event Organising » Arts Millennium Building Hall on Tuesday, 3/2/2009. Deadline for bringing in pieces for exhibition: NO EXCEPTIONS! Either they're here today, or they can't get into the Múscailt exhibition. General Múscailt planning: exhibition brochure, event organising, guest speaker (Jim Fitzpatrick, eeeek!!) accommodationodation, reception food & drink etc., all encouraged to lend a hand to make this the biggest, most successful exhibition yet. Meet in Arts Millennium Building Hall, room to be decided, watch e-mail or just turn up in hall and look for the signs!

Mise Era » Áras na MacLéinn on Monday, 9/2/2009.

The eye of the on-campus artist has been turned from the old world of materialism and money-feasting to being blasted with of a world of cascading stock indexes, governmental panic, economist buzz-words and gloomy forecasts of a great global depression. How has this affected the consciousness of the artist, if at all? How has this manifested itself onto the canvas? With the title "Mise Era", an adaptation of the Poem, "Mise Éire", by Pádraig Pearse, the Art Society has set themselves the task of getting the art world's conscious and subconscious reaction to the recession, from the Irish perspective. Using artist's tools of thought-provocation, satire, distraction and enlightenment, the Art Society are presenting this year's exhibition in the Áras na MacLéinn Foyer with additional gallery space in the James Hardiman Library, running for the whole week of festivities. Ultimately the question is asked, does Irish artistic expression have a place in a world with its eyes still on the last glimmers of prosperity? The Exhibition will be opened by special guest and renowned Celtic Artist Jim Fitzpatrick

Art House Film » O'Flaherty on Tuesday, 17/2/2009.

We're utilizing our great connections with the Heuston Film School this week; in conjunction with the Film Society we're showing "Plan Nine from Outer Space", the purportedly worst film of all time. Afterwards, we're heading to Smokey's to professionally critique the film and have lattés and be terribly artsy. Also a committee meeting will take place, to plan our upcoming very exciting, secret events!

Ground Graffiti » The ground: outside the library on Monday, 23/2/2009.

Add to the colourful chalk graffiti the Art Society will be creating on Monday, above the Bialann and outside the library. We'll be scribbling and making our own mark beside the Yellow Thing all day. Proceeds towards buying the pieces of chalk will go towards a worthy charitable cause. Note: if it's raining, you probably shouldn't expect this event to still take place...

Face-Painting!!! » On Campus on Tuesday, 24/2/2009.

Nobody can get enough of face-painting. Fact. Whether you want spider-man or a princess, kermit the frog or hellraiser, the girls and guy from Art Soc will be stationed around campus to satisfy your throbbing face-painting cravings. Money collected will, as always, go to a worthy charity.

Sponsored Silence » On Campus on Wednesday, 25/2/2009.

Three Art Society committee members will be silenced for 24 hours this Wednesday. Everyone who happens upon their strong-willed and truly pious selves wandering about campus, mouths duck-taped and pockets jingling with donations, are invited to sponsor them and do your best to provoke them into making noise. Try as you may, they won't do it...

Caricatures! » Smokeys or the Hub on Thursday, 26/2/2009.

Always wanted a caricature done? Have all your facial flaws blown completely out-of-proportion, and then immortalized on paper! Three extremely skilled caricaturists will be waiting on campus, either in Smokeys or the Hub, wherever has the biggest crowd, to uglify your poor unfortunate mug, at a bargain price for a ten-minute sitting, and all for an incredibly worthy cause. Don't be shy, just step right up...

Portrait Drawing Classes » Art Millennium Building on Tuesday, 3/3/2009.

Back to the fine art classes, after our highly successful Rag week fundraising skits and Múscailt exhibition success, we're getting our portrait-drawing skills up to speed. Bring in cutouts of heads from magazines, think those glossy, girly ones, to break down and sketch out expertly. Your own set-squares, triangles and rulers will be greatly useful. The week after, we will be following this up with a Caricature class, a nice wee money maker if our Rag week activities have proved anything! Note, room will be confirmed on the night, will be in Arts Millennium building.

Caricature Class!! » Arts Millenium Building on Tuesday, 10/3/2009.

Is there someone in Art Soc you're been wanting to insult and mortally offend all year? There is?!! Then come along and learn the art of Caricature, i.e. cartoon drawings, blowing out of proportion facial features that you learned to draw so lovingly in our last portrait drawing class. Room location to be confirmed on the night, or possibly in advance by email. ALSO we need to confirm all those coming with us to DCU to make an Art Attack to rival artsy students from the rest of the country!

Art House Film: Koyaniskatsy » O' Flaherty on Wednesday, 18/3/2009.

The most Art House Film you have ever seen and ever will see! In conjunction with the good old Film Soc, we're showing another of our Artsy Films: Koyaniskatsy, with music by Philip Glass. Intense visual over-stimulation, this film will overwhelm your senses and leave you mentally exhausted. Be ready for caffeine and very pretentious attempts by all us at Art Soc, Film Soc, and Heuston Film School students to interpret the film in Smokeys afterwards!

Caricatures! » Arts Millenium Building Hallway on Tuesday, 24/3/2009.

Yes, we've finally gotten round to doing the long-awaited caricature class! As well as rounding up the committee business for the year, we'll be taking the sketchpads out again one last time to learn essential cartooning skills of this often nice wee money-maker! Come at 7pm, in the Arts Millennium Building hallway (we'll find a room from there), and pair up to offend, insult and mortify!

Ireland Art Society Intervarsity » DCU on Friday, 27/3/2009.

Art Societies across Ireland meet for Art Attack event: we're bringing a team, a judge, and there's great craic to be had with our Dublin university equivalents! Later we'll be taken out on the town by our hosts, and then SHOPPING!!

AGM and end of year party » IT207 on Monday, 30/3/2009.

New committee to be elected tonight, will have food and drink later, come one come all!

Business Society

Bizsoc invited some interesting and successful businesspeople to speak to its members this year. These included John Boyle from Boylesports, Gene Browne from Citibin and Jennifer McGuire from the famous Apprentice TV show. Given the unprecedented turn of events in financial markets and the economic climate in the latter half of 2008, Bizsoc invited economics lecturers Dr. Kane and Dr. Ragavhendra on two seperate occasions to talk to students and give them a greater insight into recent economic events.

The society also organised some great social events for its members including the very successful Commerce Ball in January 2009, the international and the Irish mystery trips (to Stockholm and Limerick, respectively), the Cork intervarsity ball, bowling nights and table quizes.

The society provides commerce students and any student with an interest in business to learn first-hand the secrets of success of business people and also gives them the opportunity to get more involved in college life and to meet new people.

Botany Society

The Botany society aims to provide a broader understanding of botany in general and to inspire its members while bringing them together to learn, interact and socialize.

We held several talks and a trip away throughout the year and had may more plans which we will carry out next year since we are coming to the end of this year. we still have several events planned around Easter.

Overall there has been a good interest and turnout both of students and staff.

Since we are a departmental society we had a good deal of staff involvement and help, ideas etc. For next year we hope to inspire more younger people, maybe a lot of second and even first year students, to attract them to the subject topic and help them learn, socialize, network etc.

Botany Soc Events

Chess Society

This year we played chess.. again. Membership and attendance are both up. We have had Simultaneous Chess, where one person (Zaidan Zulkipli) played 15 people at the same time, we have had Giant Chess in the University opening of Múscailt, we have had a lecture from grand master, Tibor Karolyi, who has coached two of the top ten chess grand masters in the world and have organised for him to come and train the chess society over the summer. Our members have competed and done well in competitions both locally and internationally.

Chess Soc Events

This year the society had a total of 34 events that took place. These events can be divided into two categories: regular and special events.

Choral Society

Choral Society is open to all students and staff, as well as alumni of NUI Galway. We held practice on Tuesday nights in the College Chapel from 6-8pm and had a choir night out every second week for our members to meet each other and interact on another environment than during practice.

Throughout the year, we had approximately 30 members as our core who attended practice, as well as choir nights out and competitions regularly. We nevertheless invited new people to join us weekly through posters advertising the choir and were open for new people to join us at any time. We were once again musically led by Thomas Cryan and the auditor of this year was Anne-Marie Gough who put a lot of work into the Society. Under Anne-Marie, the Choral Soc got beautiful and unique new hoodys which were designed by Anne-Marie herself and Linda Mitchell, our web master. The competitions we entered in were Sligo in October 2008 and the Sacred Music Competition in Limerick in March 2009 in which the choir scored a personal high marking of 88 percentages.

Choral Soc also performed at the Chapel Students and Staff Christmas Party/ Carolling as it has been a tradition the past years.

In February 2009, Choral Soc launched a new CD at muscailt called 'flight of voice' which is on sale in the soc's box and whose income will be donated to charity. During this academic year, a Chapel Choir as well as a Chamber Choir formed under our conductor Thomas. The Chapel Choir met Sunday nights to support the 9pm mass with music. The Chamber choir was formed in February 2009 auditioning and consisting of more experienced singers. The Chamber Choir won a second prize in the National Chamber Choir Section for their performance in Cork this May.

The achievement Choral Soc was and still is very proud of this year was winning 'Best Website' at Soc's Awards as well as at BICS!. At the AGM, most committee members have already been elected. The committee of 08/09 discussed improvements in their last meeting which will be passed on to the new committee to make sure that next year will become as exciting and full of musical fulfilment and fun as this one. The society also has a great year to look forward to with our conductor participating in an exclusive & intensive conducting workshop this summer in Budapest, which will no doubt add to the experience and capabilities of the choir in 09/10.

Choral Soc Events

This year the society had a total of 62 events that took place. These events can be divided into two categories: regular and special events.

Regular Events

This year we held 2 events that ran regularly over a number of weeks. These events were as follows: Choral Soc Weekly Practice ran for 26 weeks in College Chapel (in AMB carpark), beginning on Tuesday, 7/10/2008.

Come along every Tuesday and flex those vocal muscles with the rest of the choir. We're a non-auditioned SATB choir, with lots of events, concerts, competitions and practices throughout the year. So come along, bring your friends and help us wow the college with our amazing voices!

College Chapel Choir ran for 19 weeks in College Chapel, beginning on Sunday, 18/1/2009.

Rehearsal at 8pm in the college chapel before 9pm mass on Sunday. All singers and musicians welcome at any week!

Classics Society

The Classics Society is dedicated to increasing its members' knowledge of the Classical world. Throughout the year the society together with the Classics Department hosts a series of talks by visiting lecturers from both Irish and foreign institutes of learning. Also, in the second semester we hope to travel aboard for a few days to a place of classical interest. In the past three years we have visited Rome, Sicily and Naples.

On top of this we organise social nights such as films, parties etc. The society is always welcoming to new members. And remember, you don't have to be studying Classics to join!

Classics Soc Events

Computer Society

The main goals of Compsoc are to promote an awareness of and interest in all aspects of computing and to provide a social environment for its members. Compsoc provides something for anyone and everyone with an interest in technology. Regular social meetings, games nights, guest speakers, tutorials and computer help sessions mean that Compsoc is a place for any NUIG staff or student member, from the savviest techno-genius, to the average solitaire player.

From eBay to Xboxes, mobile phones to Facebook; never before have people relied so heavily on technology to go about their daily lives. Compsoc is the first point of contact for many students of NUIG who are interested in computing to get to know each other. Compsoc also provides a unique opportunity for its members to access the wide pool of community knowledge that exists within the society through our mailing lists and web forum.

Computer Tune Up for charity! » IT106 on Monday, 16/2/2009.

Compsoc are holding a very special event in aid of the Jack and Jill foundation. We're looking to get together as many old mobile phones and donations as possible to support this great charity.

To raise money, Compsoc are running a "Computer Tune Up" evening, do you find your laptop is running slowly? Think it might have a virus or some spyware? Or does it need a general spring clean? Bring it along to our Computer Tune Up evening, donate an old/broken mobile phone, or €5, and we'll sort out your PC!

Please come along and give to this worthy cause!

Breakfast Meeting » Friars on Thursday, 5/3/2009.

Compsoc are meeting up for breakfast in Friars on Thursday morning, some people can't come to our Monday Mashups so we're meeting up at 8.30 (early I know!) to have an informal meeting, come along and chat with members!

Console Modding » IT106 on Monday, 9/3/2009.

Compsoc are running a special charity event this week. Bring along a PSP, PS2 or an original Xbox and we will mod it for you, allowing you to play homebrew games and do much more! It will cost €10, so dust off that old console and we'll mod it for you!

AGM » IT106 on Monday, 30/3/2009.

It's that time of year again. The sun is shining, the grass is being cut, people eating icecream and staying outside more before the inevitable panic of exams sets in! In place of our usual Monday Mashup on Monday the 30th, we're having an AGM. Please note that the Mashup on the 23rd is still going ahead, if you have any questions about the AGM please ask them here or email us if you can't attend.

London Trip » London! on Friday, 3/4/2009.

Compsoc are going to London!

Plans are in full swing for Compsocs trip to England! We'll be visiting Bletchley Park and Thorpe Park, as well as hanging around London, it's going to be great, but places are limited so sign up now!

We'll be flying out late 3rd April, and returning Monday 6th.

To sign up, grab your passport, go to the Socs Box and pay a deposit of €30 and fill out a form.

Rough total price will be about €120, which includes flights, transport, 3 nights accommodation and entry to Thorpe Park and Bletchley.

Its great value and will be great fun, so hope you can come!

History Society

The Cumann Staire is one of the oldest and most renowned societies of Ollscoil na hÉireann Gaillimh. Each year the CS runs a great array of academic and social events, and 2008/09 was no exception. With the moving of Tonaí Ó Roduibh from the position of Reachtaire to Rúnaí there was a further increase in brought campus the guest speakers to the by All the events were well advertised on CumannStaire.com while the year also saw the development of a strong Facebook presence. The holding of the positions of Rúnaí and Webmaster by the same person undoubtedly helped the continuing growth in the web presence of the CS. Currently the top Google spot for 'staire' is held by CumannStaire.com, with three of the other top ten results also referring to the organisation. Likewise, the Arts Bál holds top spot in searches for 'arts bál' and 'bál'. Organised by Nóra Ní Dhomhnaill, Arts Bál 2009 broke records in size and turnover, and broke new ground in moving to the Salthill Hotel and creating a new multi-venue format for entertainment on the night. Arts Bál 2010 looks size from this vear's over 1300 attendees to The Aistir conference ran as a stand-alone event for the first time this year and was a sun-blessed success. Through the international linkages the CS is constantly building Aistir will continue to expand the geographical spread of those attending it to present papers or participate in seminar groups. The academic year also saw the Cumann Staire attend an academic weekend with the history students of the Johannes Gutenberg Universität Mainz while CS delegates attended three ISHA conferences in Ljubljana, Beograd and Zagreb. As in other years members attended the IHSA Annual Conference, where three postgrads members also presented papers. The launch of a new funding process for individuals travelling to present papers is a welcome initiative, especially for postgrad students. Finally, the Cumann Staire has adopted a new Bunreacht to reflect the rapid evolution of the organisation over the last number of years and has formally adopted a much admired full coat-of-arms. With the departure from the Coiste of some of recent years' key figures next year promises to be different. There will be no slowing down in the constant improvement of the Cumann Staire in 2009/10 though, with no lack of experience and drive on the incoming Coiste!

A Colonial Famine Policy? 1845-52 » Ionad an Léinn Éireannaigh on Thursday, 12th of March.

Dr. Nally is a University Lecturer and Fellow of the Fitzwilliam College of the University of Cambridge, England. His research focuses on the study of colonialism, especially the tactics—political, economic and legal—for managing other peoples, places and resources. Although most of this work has been conducted in the context of colonial Irish society (with emphasis on the nineteenth century, the historical geographies of uneven development, and the Gorta Mór - Great Famine), he is particularly interested in exploring how colonial experiences might help us better understand contemporary issues of food insecurity, and, conversely, how more recent theoretical innovations and case studies might throw new light on historical phenomena. http://www.cumannstaire.com/imeachtai.php

Aistir International History Conference » Cathair na Gaillimhe on Thursday, 19th of March.

The annual Aistir conference brings students from many countries together to give papers and participate in seminars/workshops. Full details are available on www.aistir.com and there is also a Facebook event for Aistir. If you know of history students, or those of related historical studies, who would be interested in coming to Gaillimh let them know about the conference as early as possible.

Professor Peter Marshall

Mary I's reign has been viewed by historians both as the high-point of a broad 'Mid-Tudor Crisis', and as illustrating the fundamental stability of political and governmental structures. Her policies have been regarded alternatively as 'doomed to failure' by the circumstances she inherited, or as thwarted only by the accident of her premature death. The undoubted fact of Mary's ultimate failure clouds objective assessments of what was actually planned or achieved in 1553-58. This talk will argue that we need to move beyond the unhelpful and polarised crisis/stability debate to recapture a sense of the complexities and possibilities of the period. Instead of an overarching 'crisis' model, the focus will be on a series of individual 'critical moments' from the reign - potential or actual turning points, all with hypothetical alternative outcomes.

Professor Peter Marshall was born in the Orkney Islands, in the north of Scotland, and earned both his BA and PhD at the University of Oxford. He became a Professor at the University of Warwick (England) in 2006 and is currently their Director of Graduate Studies in History. He is also an Associate Editor for the Oxford Dictionary of National Biography, and a Series Editor for the monograph series Religious Cultures in the Early Modern World. www.CumannStaire.com

Cruinniú Chinn Bhliana - AGM » AC216 on Monday, 30th of March.

That time of the year again and in case you haven't seen the posters our end of year general meeting is on Monday. This will see the election of a new Coiste to guide the Cumann Staire on its path to even greater glory in 2009/10. We will also vote on the adoption of a new Bunreacht (constitution) of the CS. Mar sin, má tá suim agat a bheith ar an gCoiste, nó fiú ag iarraidh an Bunreacht nua a fheiceáil tar chuig AC216 Dé Luain. www.CumannStaire.com www.SuperStair.com

Dance Society

Dansoc does exactly what it says on the tin!

We are a society that is completely and totally dedicated to dance. We are run by students, for the students of NUIG. Our main aim is to provide affordable, fun dance classes for students of NUIG, and this year has been as successful as previous years in that respect. We ran classes in hip-hop, Irish dancing, breakdancing, tango and ballet at various levels and each of these classes have been a great success this year with high attendance at all classes.

Not only do we aim to provide classes for the students, but we also provide an opportunity for those students to show off what they have learned! We carried out numerous performances around campus this year which were all a great success. In semester 1 we had 'Beat That', a show packed with different styles of dance from Hip-hop to Ballet, and in Semester 2 was 'Beat That 2' which boasted the same variety of styles. We also entered the dance intervarsities which were held in Dublin this year. The competition was fierce and we were delighted to bring the 3rd place Hip-Hop trophy back to Galway.

The success of the society has been highlighted by invitations from other societies to perform at their events this year. We danced at the Rotaract fashion show and also at the Societies awards also.

So, 08/09 as been another busy one for Dansoc, but we wouldn't have it any other way. The hard work of the committee, the teachers and the dancers has paid off once again this year and the society has gone from strength to strength to show the creative talents of the students of NUI Galway.

Dansoc Events

This year the society had a total of 124 events that took place. These events can be divided into two categories: regular and special events.

Regular Events

Draiocht

Draíocht 2008/ 2009

This is the first year of the society Draíocht. In the beginning of the year our main aim as a society was establishing ourselves and getting members. Our first big event was holding an information night in which the history and background of Draíocht was discussed, along with our projects in Nepal, where money raised had been spent, and our hopes for the future.

After generating an interest we then started holding weekly volunteering meetings where different aspects of volunteering were discussed, and people interested in going out to Nepal got together and got to know one another.

We also started Nepali language classes for both people who wanted to go to Nepal and the general public. These classes are free and just beginners Nepali language skills were taught alongside Nepalese and Asian culture.

We have organised a table quiz in college bar to try and raise money for our projects in Nepal, and this year we won best new society at the NUI Galway Society awards and went on to represent the society in the National Society Awards at BICS.

Draiocht Events

This year the society had a total of 17 events that took place. These events can be divided into two categories: regular and special events.

Regular Events

This year we held 1 event that ran regularly over a number of weeks. This event was as follows:

Nepali language Class ran for 10 weeks in IT205, beginning on Monday, 9/2/2009.

Beginners Nepali language and culture class. A free class to teach just basic words, phrases and customs of Nepal. Recommended for people going out to volunteer this summer but everyone is more than welcome.

Special Events

This year we held 7 special events. These events were as follows:

First Meeting » Hub on Monday, 10/11/2008.

Just a little get together so that all members can meet each other.

Information Night » IT 125 on Wednesday, 12/11/2008.

I'll be discussing all the work that I've done out in Nepal before this. First of all, I will be talking about all the money we fundraised last year, where we spent the money and giving a little insight into the costs of running the orphanage and what we have left in our account at the moment. So for everyone who was involved in raising money last year, I think it would be nice for you all to know where the money went and how it has actually helped.

Anyway I will also be talking about the children who are currently in the home, about the two schools and what the current situation is. Also I will be giving details about Summer 2009 volunteering in Nepal and a little what it is like. I'm hoping it will be a really interesting night and if your hoping to come volunteering this summer I definitely recommend coming along. Also it gives you a chance to get to meet everyone.

Committe Meeting » Hub on Tuesday, 20/1/2009.

Volunteering Meeting » Hub on Wednesday, 4/2/2009.

Volunteer Meeting » Hub on Wednesday, 11/2/2009.

Volunteer Meeting » Hub on Saturday, 28/2/2009.

Table Quiz » College Bar on Monday, 16/3/2009.

A table quiz for charity!!!

Come along for a fun night. Great prizes up for grabs including an €80 gift voucher. All money raised goes directly to our orphanage in Nepal.

Drama Society

Dramsoc have had an extremley successful year. Members have taken part in plays such as Juno and the Paycok, Danty Dan and Doggs Hamlett amongst others. As usual, Dramsoc has combined the skills and artistic talents of the student body who have worked as actors, directors and stage production crew. Indeed, Dramsoc members have been approached by many theatre companies and televesion programmes, such as Ros na Run and The Tudors who are keen to work alongside our members.

Dramsoc's weekly Staged & Confused, which is two hours of improv and acting techniques and games continues to attract new people. It is this social aspect that has allowed Dramsoc to flourish throughout the years.

As always, Dramsoc encourages and supports aspiring actors, playwrights, directors and anyone interested in stage production. We hold workshops throughout the year focusing upon acting tecquiques, lighting and other important aspects of theatre. Dramsoc continues to fund students who wish to stage their independent theatrical work or those who just wish to take part. Indeed, it is hardly suprising that many Galway based theatre companies have firm roots within this universitys Drama society.

Film Society

FilmSoc this year succeeded in providing all the members of NUIG with unparalleled fun and entertainment! We did this in a number of ways but most of our energy went into running the NUIG Student Cinema.

We believe this cinema is very important for NUIG as it is the only venue that gives the students a non-alcoholic nightlife event on campus multiple times per week. Not only is it a drink-free option, it also caters to a number of different audiences, providing ArtHouse, Classic and Blockbuster movies each week, as well as several specially themed nights in association with a large variety of different societies. This year we established a strong relationship with the other societies of NUIG by hosting numerous events in accordance with them. We gave other societies the chance to screen movies relevant to their cause, thereby promoting them and expanding the span of our audience. We have come to really appreciate the value of the student cinema, and our aim has been to share the cultural, fun and thought-provoking experience of cinema to the students and faculty of the college entirely for free. It greatly enhances the cultural vibrancy of the university week to week.

Filmsoc this year have succeeded in providing a facility for those interested in behind-the-scenes production. We gave the students of NUIG, budding film makers and writers, the chance to bring their work to life. We organised workshops in pre-production, camera use, post production and screenwriting. We held regular production meetings in which we scouted out scripts and set to work producing them. Some projects are still ongoing!

An important event for filmsoc this year was the hosting of NUIGs very first all-inclusive ball. The Oscars Ball event was a huge success. We raised a significant sum of money for Barratstown childrens charity, and established a great event for every student in NUIG. It was also a great opportunity for the committee to get together and blow off some steam!

Filmsoc have achieved a lot this year, but one of our greatest achievements we feel as a committee was maintaining a strong profile on campus so we can continue to entertain, educate and enlighten the students of NUIG.

Geography Society

The society organised a range of activities for its members this year, including table quizes, meet and greet events with other societies, a range of seminars organised by the Geography Department Postgrads and several external invited speakers. One of the highlights of our year was a fieldtrip to the Association of American Geographers. Four postgraduate members attended and presented research papers at what is the largest geography conference in the world. Our papers were diverse on such subjects as 'volcanoes and climate change', 'Marine spacial planning', 'childrens attitude towards education' and 'Dark tourism in Sarajevo'. The opportunity to get feedback on their research by international experts was extremly beneficial. They plan to give a presentation on their work to the new society members in September to help explore the potential of Geography as a subject and the benefits of the society for social networking. The society had a successful year and hopes to build on this throughout the 2009/10 year with more events and more members.

Geography Soc Events

G-Eos Society

The GEOS Society is the Galway Earth and Ocean Society. We are a departmental society with affilation and recognition from the Earth and Ocean Sciences Department of NUI Galway. We aim to provide a medium for students to ask questions and discuss their course with both older years and lecturers. We achieve this by hosting a Website, on which any information regarding the society is displayed including an online forum where any and all questions can be asked. We also hold numerous talks and lectures where all members can get a deeper insight into a particular area than their lectures provide. We also hold a number of social nights for all our members to relax and get to know their class mates and lecturers in an informal setting.

Geos Events

This year the society held a total of 13 events.

Climate Change & Increased Water Demand » Fottrell Theater (AM200) Arts Millennium on Thursday, 25th of September.

Dr. Pat Leahy, Executive director of the American Geological Institute, presents an international perspective on the impacts of climate change and a growing population, both of which threaten groundwater resources, as well as strategies on how we can adapt.

Everyone is welcome to attend this talk and there will be a tea, coffee and biscuit reception afterwards. Hope to see you there.

Solving Darwin's Dilemma » A206, Dept. of Earth and Ocean Sciences on Thursday, 12th of February. Breandán MacGabhann, Department of Earth and Ocean Sciences Solving Darwin's Dilemma: Clues to the origin and early evolution of animals from the Ordovician of the Sahara Desert, Morocco 150 years ago, Charles Darwin's On The Origin Of Species was published, changing forever our understanding of life. However, Darwin had one unanswered question: how come every major animal group appeared simultaneously at the base of the Cambrian, (in what is now known as the Cambrian Explosion)? The fundamental question posed became known as Darwin's Dilemma: did the Cambrian Explosion represent the origin of animals? Or were these remains merely the first fossils, hiding a long period of evolution unrepresented in the geological record? Now, on the 200th anniversary of the birth of Charles Darwin, Breandán MacGabhann, a postgraduate here in EOS who shares Charles Darwin's birthday, will present a talk on his research on Ordovician fossils from the Sahara Desert of Morocco, and how they impact on theories of early animal evolution. Beginning with a brief taste of what it's like to work in the Sahara Desert, he will move on to describe the newly discovered Tafilalt Lagerstatte, which preserves thousands of soft-bodied fossils fossils. Many of these fossils are related to specimens from the famous Middle Cambrian Burgess Shale lagerstatte, but are preserved in a style more similar to the Ediacaran biota, a set of Precambrian fossils, which are controversial in terms of their relationship to later Cambrian fossils. Comparison of the Ordovician, Cambrian, and Ediacaran lagerstatte may hold the key to finally answering Darwin's Dilemma, thus fundamentally changing what we think we know about the Earth's earliest animals.

German Society

The German society is set up to practice the German language and experience the exceptional German culture. We would like to welcome any German Erasmus students to NUIG. We also like to have fun and get to know more people. Viel Spass!

German Soc Events

This year the society had a total of 19 events that took place. These events can be divided into two categories: regular and special events.

Regular Events

This year we held 1 event that ran regularly over a number of weeks. This event was as follows: Coffee Morning ran for 13 weeks in The Hub, Aras Na Mac Leinn, beginning on Tuesday, 27/1/2009. Hi guys,

This is a chance for German Soc members(and friends/anybody) to meet up at the Hub for coffee and chat. It's a great chance to get to meet new people of similar interests and provides members with an opportunity to get in contact with committee members to give ideas about events etc.

Special Events

This year we held 6 special events. These events were as follows:

Weihnachts Party » Bierhaus on Thursday, 27/11/2008.

This is a joint event with the German department and German class reps. We will all meet in the Bierhaus at 20:30 for a Christmas party. There will be free gluehwein and some German food; also a DJ will play music for all the students in the Bierhaus. Frohe Weihnachten!

Threepenny Opera » Bank of Ireland Theatre on Tuesday, 10/3/2009.

"Threepenny Opera" by Brecht 10th-12th March. Venue: Bank of Ireland theatre @ 8pm. Admission is free. The Threepenny Opera proclaims itself "an opera for beggars," and it was in fact an attempt both to satirize traditional opera and operetta and to create a new kind of musical theatre based on the theories of two young German artists, composer Kurt Weill and poet-playwright Bert Brecht. The show opens with a mock-Baroque overture, a nod to Threepenny's source, The Beggar's Opera, a brilliantly successful parody of Handel's operas written by John Gay in 1728. In a brief prologue following the overture, a shabby figure comes on-stage with a barrel organ and launches into a song chronicling the crimes of the notorious bandit and womaniser Macheath, "Mack the Knife." The setting is a fair in Soho (London), just before Queen Victoria's coronation.

Threepenny Opera >> Bank of Ireland Theatre on Wednesday, 11/3/2009.

Threepenny Opera >> Bank of Ireland Theatre on Thursday, 12/3/2009.

Threepenny Opera » Bank of Ireland Theatre on Thursday, 26/3/2009.

Stadtführung Galway » Meet at Hooker Fountain at Eyre Square. on Saturday, 9/5/2009.

GiGSoc (Gay in Galway)

GiGsoc is dedicated to provide a safe an welcoming environment to members of the LGBT community and friends, it does this by hosting events, both social and educational.

In the academic year 08/09 GiGsoc had its share of up sand downs. We had some fantastic events in semester one; however, other commitments for the committee lead the society to suffer in the early portion of semester two.

However, with persistence and dedication, GiGsoc managed to pull through, putting on a student pride week to remember thanks to a lot of hard work from remaining committee members.

The highest point by far of our year was SLQS (Smells Like Queen Spirit), which took place during student pride week.

GiGSoc (Gay In Galway) Events

This year the society held a total of 16 events.

Welcome Out! » IT207 on Tuesday, 30th of September.

Happy New Year!

Our first event of the new year is the ever wonderful Welcome Out! Party! Come along and have a laugh, meet new people and make loads of new friends! Things kick off in the IT Building at 8pm; but the fun won't end there! We'll be heading out afterwards! So it should be a great night to get things kicked off!

Ice-Breakers, are as always available to one and to all!

Extraordinary General Meeting » IT207 on Tuesday, 7th of October.

The first EGM of GiGSoc will be happening in IT207 (the same room the welcome out party was in) this Tuesday the 7th of October, in order to fill the positions of Secretary and Education Officer. It should be noted that the position is open to all members including first years, who are registered students of NUI Galway.

In order to run for the position, it is necessary to be nominated by two students; you may propose yourself, and be seconded by someone else, or you may be proposed and nominated by two other members.

In order to vote, you must present your valid NUIG Student ID.

The election will be by secret ballot, with an option to re-open the nominations.

Treasure Hunt » IT207 on Tuesday, 7th of October.

Disney themed treasure hunt, preceded by EGM!

Table Quiz » TBC on Tuesday, 14th of October.

Come along this week, and get those brain cells stretched at a good old fashioned table quiz! Things will be kicking off in a pub at 8pm! Free finger food will be served! Yahoo! As always Ice-Breakers are available - just drop us a line!

Hallowe'en Ball » The Living Room on Tuesday, 28th of October.

Join us this Tuesday for a Traffic Light Ball Meets Carnival Extravaganza! The colour of your mask (which GiGSoc will provide) signals your intentions.... Things will get started around 8pm, with free finger food being provided too!! See you there, and don't forget, Ice-Breakers are available, if you want to come along, but don't want to do it by yourself!

Smells Like Queen Spirit » The Stage Door & Club Heaven on Thursday, 6th of November.

USIs Pink Training » NUI Galway on Friday, 7th of November.

This year NUI, Galway is hosting USIs Pink Training weekend! A fun weekend of Educational Workshops on all things gay, and lesbian! Topics covered include Trans Issues, Coming Out, and Queer Theory!

Club nights are being run from Thursday, in the form of SLQS, and then on Friday and Saturday.

Friday, things get starting the college bar, and move thence, that's right, thence, to Heaven! (Night Club).

Saturday evening, we begin our evening in the Stage door, and again go to Heaven!

Cinema Night » Omniplex, opposite Galway S.C. on Tuesday, 11th of November.

This week were having, wait for it... A Cinema Night, tomorrow the 11th of November! We'll be meeting at the Omniplex cinema which is on Headford road) for about 8.45 so we have enough time to see what people wanna see the most!! the decision is yours:) There will be €1.50 off all your tickets as well!!! Hope to see ye all there!...

Singstar Tuesday » The Stage Door, Woodquay on Tuesday, 18th of November. ~**"Singstar Tuesday"**~

This weeks event is a singstar competition, a fabulous night where you can all come along and belt out the tunes. Things will be kicking off in the lovely Stage Door (Woodquay) at 9pm. . and after we'll see where the night takes us.... There will be great prizes up for grabs for 1st, 2nd and 3rd place and a good and messy night is guaranteed 9 so make sure ye come out and have a laugh with all the Gays and don't forget to drag along a couple of friends!!

~** ICE-BREAKERS **~

As always Ice-Breakers are available to anyone who wants them. So don't be shy and drop us a line if you wanna come along!!! We don't bite...

Welcome Out! Party » IT 207 on Tuesday, 20th of January.

Rocky Horror Picture Show » O'Flaherty Theatre, Concourse on Tuesday, 27th of January.

In association with FilmSoc, GiGSoc presents the Rocky Horror Picture Show! After Janet accepts Brad's marriage proposal, the happy couple drive away from Denton, Ohio, only to get lost in the rain. They stumble upon the castle of Dr. Frank-N-Furter, a transvestite who is holding the annual convention of visitors from the planet Transsexual. Frank-N-Furter unveils his creation, a young man named Rocky Horror, who fears the doctor and rejects his sexual advances. When Frank-N-Furter announces that he is returning to the galaxy Transylvania, Riff Raff the butler and Magenta the maid declare that they have plans of their own. Let's all do the timewarp and try to forget about the planned MTV remake!

We're going to head to the Living Room afterwards for chatting!

Ice-Breakers are always available!!

A Night Of Mature Cheese w/v Easi SIngle » IT206 on Tuesday, 10th of March.

We will be hosting Vesna Malesevic a sociology lecturer who will be giving us a talk on her recent findings in a survey she conducted on the youth LGBT in Ireland with particular emphasis on the Galway LGBT population.

The night will be accompanied with cheese and wine, and after the talk we will be pumping out the tunes cheesaay style!

Then its onwards and upward to Cuba Nightclub! Free passes WILL be provided!

See you there GiGers! As always new members are welcome: email gigsoc@gmail.com

GIGSoc STUDENT PRIDE » Various on Tuesday, 10th of March.

Goal Society

Goal is an international humanitarian organisation that has spent over €400 million implementing relief and development programmes in 50 countries in the past 30 years.

Goal ensures that the poorest of the poor and the most vulnerable in our world and those affected by humanitarian crises have access to the fundamental needs and rights of life: food, water, shelter, medical attention and literacy.

The Goal Society here in NUIG aims to raise the much needed funds for these underdeveloped nations in innovative ways, such as through sporting events, leg waxing, Jersey Day etc. We also strive to increase awareness of third world poverty on campus by highlighting development issues. Not only do we fundraise for this worthy cause but we manage to do this on an exceptionally low administration cost.

Goal Soc Events

This year the society held a total of 5 events.

Goal Presentation » AC215 on Wednesday, 29th of October.

Goalsoc have invited a Galway City Goal representative Clara into one of our meetings to tell us about Goal's current issues and the work Goal is doing worldwide today.

Silence Day » AC215 on Wednesday, 26th of November.

Goal will be arranging a silence day where participants will have sponsorship cards in order to raise funds for Goal by staying Silent for the day.

The Dark Knight showing » O'Flaherty Theatre on Thursday, 22nd of January.

FilmSoc are showing "The Dark Knight" and have kindly involved GoalSoc in the event by arranging for GoalSoc to gather donations from students who are attending the film.

Non-Alcohol Week » AC215/Campus on Monday, 16th of February.

Goalsoc will hold a non-Alcohol week where participants can get sponsorship from friends and family for not drinking alcohol for one week. Any funds raised will go to Goalsoc.

Cellar Night » The Cellar Bar on Wednesday, 25th of February.

The Cellar Bar are kindly allowing Goalsoc to raise funds in their bar on the Wednesday of Rag Week. Goalsoc members will money by carrying out face painting and giving out sweets to anyone who put money into our Goal buckets.

Hispano Soc

Hola a todos!!

Hispanosoc is NUI Galway's only society dedicated to promoting Spanish, Hispanic and Latin culture on campus. Even though we got off to a rocky start this year, a new and enthusiastic following enabled us to have some really great memorable events in second semester, and we're looking forward to another great year to come!

Hispanosoc Events

This year the society had a total of 24 events that took place. These events can be divided into two categories: regular and special events.

Regular Events

This year we held 1 event that ran regularly over a number of weeks. This event was as follows:

Night out with ISIS ran for 14 weeks in Aras Na nGael, Lower Dominick Street, beginning on Thursday, 29/1/2009.

Night out in Aras na nGael with the Irish Spanish Integration Society... It's a fantastic opportunity to meet Spanish people, and for you Spanish to meet Irish people that are looking for an intercambio. It also is a great night out where you can meet lots of lovely people!! So espero de veros todos manana!!!

Special Events

This year we held 10 special events. These events were as follows:

First Meeting » The Hub on Wednesday, 14/1/2009.

We're meeting tomorrow at 6pm in the hub, in Aras Na Macleinn for our first general meeting. Everyone who would like to get involved, come along! We'll be making a plan for all the things we'll be doing during the Semester, so if you have anything you would like us to do come along and tell us, or, if you can't make it, send us an email.

First Party » Bar Number 8 on Wednesday, 21/1/2009.

First Hispanosoc Party of the year in Bar Number 8!!

Fresa y Chocolate » Tyndall Theatre on Tuesday, 27/1/2009.

We are going to show a film called Fresa y Chocolate at 7.30 in the TYNDALL LECTURE THEATRE.

Plot: Diego, a cultivated, homosexual and skeptical young man, falls in love with a young heterosexual communist full of prejudices and doctrinary ideas. First come rejection and suspicion, but also fascination. Fresa y chocolate is the story of a great friendship, that is, a great love between two men, which overcomes incomprehension and intolerance.

Disco Pigs » Tyndall Theatre on Tuesday, 3/2/2009.

Tonight's film is Disco Pigs, hope to see you all there!

Y tu Mama Tambien » Tyndall Theatre on Tuesday, 10/2/2009.

Our weekly film, this week in spanish is a mexican cult classic, Y tu Mama Tabmien!

Carnaval Fancy Dress Party » Aras Na nGael, Lower Dominick Street on Tuesday, 24/2/2009.

All around the world people are getting dressed up and having fun for Carnaval! So let's join them! Prizes for best costumes, face painting & DJ. €2 in.

Luis Asturias Fundraiser » Roisin Dubh on Sunday, 1/3/2009.

We have the next Armada Corazon Event to support Luis Asturias this Sunday 1st March @ the Roisin Dubh. The line up will include No Banjo, The Violets, Timbertramps, Dj Will Sofly and Dj Monty. Tickets are €10 doors open at 9 pm till late.

Luis Asturias is a well known Spanish musician living in Galway for the last 12 years. During this time he has played with many local bands and songwriters and has also been a member of some of Galway's more exciting original rock outfits.

Recently Luis was diagnosed with a rare disease called Amyloidosis which has affected his heart. Unfortunately his condition has worsened in the form of Multiple Myeloma; a type of blood cancer that he is currently receiving treatment for at UCHG.

Luis' best option for long-term survival is an urgent cardiac transplant. A Spanish cardiologist has agreed to operate on him, however the cost for this procedure is substantial and hence a major concern at present. Therefore ARMADA CORAZON, a Fund-Raising event has been organized to help towards the cost.

More info at www.supportluis.com

We hope to see you on Sunday.

Carnaval Fancy Dress Party » Galway Bay Hotel on Friday, 13/3/2009.

An event originally hosted every year by the Italian soc, this year Hispanosoc and Frenchsoc are on board too. There will be a three course dinner, lots of music and dance and great fun! It is taking place in the Galway Bay Hotel on the 13th of March, Tickets are 55 euros and afters are 25 euros.

All proceeds are going to charity.

Che el Argentino » Tyndall Theatre on Tuesday, 24/3/2009.

This week we'll be showing the latest film of Che Guevara and the Cuban revolution, 'Che el Argentino'

Bring Your own Food Party » Bar 8, the Docks on Thursday, 2/4/2009.

To mark the end of the semester we are going to have a party this coming Thursday from 8.30 in Bar no8. It's a Bring Your Own Food party, so, if you feel like it, prepare your favourite nibbles and share them with the rest! Don't worry, you'll be let in without food, too;) Also, we are going to have some great Flamenco musicians play for us! It should be great fun and a perfect way of ending the academic year so hope to see all of you there!

International Students Society

The International Student Society is for all visiting students to NUI, Galway and Irish students who would like to meet our visitors. The society is traditionally run by returning erasmus students who have a feel for being a foreign student, and also encourages visiting student participation in the committee.

This year we ran a number of events which tried to strike a balance between the two main attractions for visitors, fun and sightseeing. We ran a number of trips to some of Ireland's most famous landmarks like the Cliffs of Moher, to less-traditional destinations such as Mountbellow Agricultural Farm, so visitors could experience real Irish farming.

At the same time, we ran social events with an international theme such as bring a plate nights and a 'dress as your country' night, all of which proved to be a huge success both with foreign and Irish society members.

ISS International Students Society Events

This year the society held a total of 28 events.

Welcome Back Party » Skeffington Arms on Wednesday, 10th of September.

Start the year off on the right foot at our weclome back party for all you returning students and our international guests: welcome to Galway. There will be craic, free finger food and a prize for the first 50 so see you all at the Skeff, Eyre Square.

Aran Islands » Aran Islands on Friday, 12th of September.

Come tour the beautiful Aran Islands with the ISS. We'll cycling, sightseeing and picnicking, walking and more!

Town Tour » All About Town on Wednesday, 17th of September.

Galway Nightlife Tour » All over the place on Friday, 19th of September.

Bring A Dish and Céilí » College Bar on Thursday, 2nd of October.

FEAST YOUR EYES ON THIS!: The "Bring a Dish" party is pretty self explanatory. Come one, come all, come with food to the College Bar at 7pm on Thursday 2nd of October. The idea is everyone brings a dish and everyone eats a bit of whatever they want from the vast variety of international dishes.

If you make a dish, you can bring a friend but we are going to be strict about catching freeloaders; two people, at LEAST one dish.

In other news, the ISS is pleased to announce the return of that most sacred of NUIG traditions, the annual ISS-Trad Soc Céilí. (A Céilí is a big traditional Irish dance and it involves much swinging and jumping and hopping and skipping and, if you do it right, much falling and sweating and bruising.) Straight after the Bring a Dish dinner, the College Bar will be hosting this manic event, starting at 9pm sharp. Trust us folks, this is unmissable. The Traditional Music Society will be providing quality traditional Irish music led by the infamous Ken "The Caller" O'Donoghue and there'll be plenty of natives to show you the moves.

SO: Bring a Dish begins at 7 and if you can't make it /cook join us at 9 for the Céilí.

Rubix Cube Party » Mixers Bar on Wednesday, 8th of October.

Dress As your Country » Paddy'sBar, Prospect Hill on Friday, 10th of October.

so the DRESS AS YOUR COUNRTY PARTY is simple:

- 1) choose a stereotype of your nationality
- 2) emulate the fudge out of it
- 3) turn up to PADDY'S BAR on Wednesday the 21st because you will look very silly dressed like that anywhere else

Bowling » Leisure World (next to Tesco) on Wednesday, 15th of October.

Cliffs of Moher » Cliffs of Moher- Co. Clare on Sunday, 2nd of November.

Election Party » Paddy's Bar on Tuesday, 4th of November.

On 4th of November 2008 the United States of America will vote to decide its future President. To celebrate this momentous event ISS and the Literary and Debating Society AND Law Soc are hosting a party in Paddy's were we'll be watching the votes as they come in. Oh... and we'll eating American food (pretzels) so we can party while we're waiting for that final result :-) Entry fee will be five Euro payable at the bar entrance, the Socs Box or at the NUI Galway US Presidential Election Debate this Thursday. This is going to be the biggest event of the year, don't miss it.

Table Quiz and Party » College Bar...then MIXERS on Tuesday, 11th of November.

Trip To Moutbellow Agricultural Farm » Mounbellow on Friday, 21st of November.

Come see how a real Irish farm works. We'll be given a tour of the farm where we get to meet the animals and sample the food!

Welcome Party » Skeffington Arms on Tuesday, 13th of January.

Galway Nightlife Tour » All over the place on Thursday, 15th of January.

Dress as your Country Party » Paddy's Bar on Wednesday, 21st of January.

International Film Night » O'Flaherty Theatre on Wednesday, 28th of January.

Day Trip To Conemarra » Conemarra on Friday, 30th of January.

Come away with us to this wild and mystical land "INTO THE WEST" -The tour will cost €11 and we will be hitting Kylemore Abbey, Letterfrack Furniture Museum, and the sleek village of Cliften. And stopping for photos, of course.

Tickets are available from tomorrow (Thursday the 22nd) in the Socs Box. The Socs Box is in the Rush Cafe in Áras na MacLéinn (the glass building next to the college bar). They will most likely sell out super fast so get there ASAP.

We leave from the Quad @ 9.30 AM on Friday the 30th of January and we should be back by 6pm

80's Costume Party » Club De Burgos on Tuesday, 3rd of February.

Kayak Session » THE CANAL on Friday, 6th of February.

Trip To Limerick City » Limerick City on Sunday, 15th of February.

Limerick, nicknamed 'The City of Spectacular Sights' by me, has some spectacular sights. On Sunday the 15th of this month, the ISS will be hosting a day trip to this very city.

Specific sights are:

The Hunt Museum (considered 'pretty sweet' by some people I asked)

King John's Castle

A 'Mystery' castle!

Make sure you go! Tickets go on sale tomorrow (the 9th) at 1pm in the Socs Box for €12, and you'd be wise to snag one pretty sharpish. Besides a willingness to sing on the bus (I'm looking at you, Connemara bus group), you'll need to bring a packed lunch and a rain jacket. Since it will be a day trip, we'll all meet at 9:30am and be back by around 7pm, so tell your moms not to worry.

Bring a Dish and Open Mic Night » De Burgos on Tuesday, 17th of February.

CHARITY WORLD CUP >> KINGFISHER GYM on Tuesday, 24th of February.

On Tuesday during RAG week (the 24th), the ISS is hosting an INTERNATIONAL 5-a-side soccer tournament in the Kingfisher Sports Center (the gym on campus). The cost to have a team is 15 Euro, but since each team will consist of at least 5 people, it's pretty much 3 euro per person. MOST IMPORTANTLY: We will be donating proceeds to Cancer Care West, so you will not only bask in the glow of sportsmanship, but you'll also be giving to a genuinely good cause. Guy/Girl, Skill/Suck, Chelsea/Manu; everyone is welcome to come out and have some fun! GET 5 PEOPLE FROM YOUR COUNTRY TOGETHER AND COME WEARING YOUR COUNTRY COLOURS. SIGN UP ONLY! EMAIL YOUR TEAM NAME TO INTSTUDENTS@SOCS.NUIGALWAY.IE

90s Party » De Burgos on Wednesday, 25th of February.

HIKE TO DIAMOND HILL » Conemarra National Park on Saturday, 28th of February.

The mountaineering club of NUIG will be taking the ISS mountain (well technically hill) climbing in the Conemarra National Park. So, on the 28th of February, which is a Saturday, we're going to climb to the top of Diamond Hill! You want to come..? Tickets are €8 each and go on sale this FRIDAY the 20th in the Socs Box AND AND AND there is a cash €€€ prize for whoever gets to the top first! We'll be leaving at 10am from outside the Quad. Pro tips: Wear comfortable shoes AND Bring a Packed Lunch.

Weekend in Kerry » Kerry on Friday, 6th of March.

Multiculturalism Party » College Bar on Thursday, 26th of March.

I've recently overheard a surprising number of Irish students bemoaning the fact that they 'hadn't experienced properly the incredible amount of diversity on campus, especially considering the fact that the wildly popular International Student Society is open to any comers and always willing to have a good time.' Luckily the Law Society AND the International Students' Society are having a 'Wrap-Up-Party' to celebrate the end of the Law Society's 'Equality and Inclusion Week' this Thursday in the College Bar at 10. Everyone is welcome to come sample cultures from around the world through international cuisine (including the popular 'Italian' and 'French' food) and music (we'll be blasting everything from bluegrass to African to Irish). So, if you're an Irish student looking for an interesting experience, or an international student looking for another excuse to go nuts with your friends, or even one of those six eloquent people I've eavesdropped on around campus, come out next Thursday for a great time!

ISS AGM » IT207 on Friday, 3rd of April.

CORRIB PRINCESS » RIVER CORRIB on Friday, 3rd of April.

HEIIO ALL, To celebrate the end of term we're going to be cruising up and down the Corrib River on a boat, just us and the water all around us, on a boat, with all sorts of fun shenanigans going on, on a boat. For three hours (6-9pm) you and the rest of the ISS can toast the town in style. I won't call it a 'Love Boat', but the actual boat is called 'The Corrib Princess', so yeah, I will. Friday the 3rd of April is the date, so whatever else you had going on that day, cancel it. Do it. Tickets go on sale tomorrow (the 26rd) in the socs box for €7 and, judging from past ISS events that weren't even near a boat selling out within two hours, you had better snag yours sharpish. Big love, ISS

Juggling Society

The Juggling Society got off to a great start this year, with juggling twice a week in the sun by Áras na MacLéinn. Even before societies day, new members were joining in enthusiastically. Societies day itself saw hundreds more people signing up to our mailing list, after the ingenious pegging operation which saw almost two thousand clothes pegs bearing the Juggling Soc name being attached to unsuspecting students.

The first semester went brilliantly, with higher numbers than ever before attending our weekly workshops and weekly practice sessions in the Aras na MacLéinn Hall. In November we were treated to an incredible show from two professional jugglers flown in from Sweden, and twenty members journeyed to Tralee for the annual Tralee Circus Festival. The second semester was no less extravagant, with more workshops and practice sessions, trips and shows. Despite having to move to a venue off campus, numbers of people attending sessions did not suffer too badly. In January fifteen members went on a trip to Berlin for five days of juggling and workshops. The end of the college year is coming up now but the Juggling Society is far from over, with another show upcoming, featuring another two special guest performers from Germany, and plenty of society members and Galway

With the return of good weather the Juggling Society has returned to campus, juggling in the sun by Áras na MacLéinn three times a week now. In May we are planning the Galway Juggling Convention, hosted by the NUIG Juggling Society for the first time.

Juggling Soc Events

This year the society had a total of 47 events that took place. These events can be divided into two categories: regular and special events.

Regular Events

This year we held 3 events that ran regularly over a number of weeks. These events were as follows: Practice session ran for 13 weeks in Áras na MacLéinn Hall, beginning on Thursday, 11/9/2008.

Labour Youth Society

Labour Youth is the youth branch of the Labour Party NUI Galway. As Ireland's only real left-wing alternative to the domination of corrupt and self-serving petty politics that have marked this country, we aim to try and give the students of NUI Galway a voice in building a better Ireland. With increasing voter apathy, this society tries to show students that they can make a real difference in Irish politics. We hold meetings and talks on Labour politics and organise events throughout the year, focussing on issues such as equality, human rights and social justice. Labour Youth also has a strong international dimension, regularly participating in European events with our sister social democratic parties in the Party of European Socialists. If you have ever felt like you wanted to change the world for the better, then Labour Youth is the political society for you.

Labour Youth Events

Law Society

The Law Society has long been a leading forum for legal discourse and political debate within the university. Our members are encouraged to question and develop independent thinking regarding legal and political discourse. The Law Society annually invites distinguished guest speakers to address our members or participate in debates. This year the society wanted to appeal to all of its members and we endeavoured to put on debates on as many topical areas as possible. This years debates ranged from issues such as the current situation in Israel to the US Presidential Election and if there could be an Obama in Irish politics.

We were eager to push the boundaries for society events and so for the first time we hosted a video link via America with the important author, activist, concentration camp survivor and Nobel Peace Prize Winner Elie Wiesel showing the Society's strong views on issues of human rights. Aswell as trying out new technologies for hosting guest speakers we as a society wanted to host events on a larger scale than has been previously seen for society events. This was reflected in our US Presidential Debate which saw two esteemed speakers debate the topic infront of over 750 people in Aras na MacLeinn.

As well as hosting renowned speakers, the society has been busy running events in which students can participate more fully including the "How to Study Law" seminar and the Moot Court competition which always proves popular. Debating is also an important part of the Law Soc year as we host the Irish National Law Debates with the Literary and Debating Society. We also hosted an Alternative Careers in Law Seminar to reflect the current economic situation which is directly affecting all law graduates thus exhibiting our desire to cater for our society members.

This year has seen the Law Society connect with its members and the School of Law through regular social events and the a new Class Representative system. We also won Most Improved Society and Best Individual both at the NUIG Society Awards and at the BICS National Awards 2009.

Law Society Events

This year the society held a total of 47 events.

Law Soc Mentoring to First Years » College Campus on Thursday, 11th of September.

First Year Induction Party » College Bar on Thursday, 11th of September.

Address by Professor Elie Wiesel » O'Flaherty Theatre on Wednesday, 17th of September.

Nobel Peace Prize winner and Holocaust survivor Professor Elie Wiesel, delivered an address via video link at NUI Galway on Wednesday, 17 September. The event, which was open to the public, was hosted NUI Galway's Law Society and took place at 7pm sharp in the O'Flaherty Theatre, in the Arts and Science Building on campus.

Professor Wiesel is an advocate for awareness of past and potential acts of genocide, and has worked on behalf of oppressed people for most of his adult life. Born in 1928 in Transylvania, Wiesel and his family were deported by the Nazis to Auschwitz when he was just 15 years old. His personal experience of the Holocaust led him to use his talents as an author, teacher and storyteller to defend human rights and peace throughout the world.

"Elie Wiesel is one of the moral compasses of our time. He reminds us, constantly, of the horrors of the Holocaust, but his message is always hopeful and positive and pointed towards the future of humanity rather than its ugly past", said Professor William Schabas, Director of the Irish Centre for Human Rights, NUI Galway.

Wiesel's efforts to defend human rights and peace throughout the world have earned him the Presidential Medal of Freedom, the United States Congressional Gold Medal and the Medal of Liberty award, the rank of Grand-Choix in the French Legion of Honour and in 1986, the Nobel Peace Prize. He has received more than 100 honourary degrees from institutions of higher learning.

Commenting on the lecture, Auditor of the Law Society Peter Mannion said: "We are truly honoured to have Professor Wiesel address our society. We know that our members will benefit greatly from his experience and compelling story. It's an inspirational way to start the year and we hope that it will provide a challenge for the students of NUI Galway."

In 1978, President Jimmy Carter appointed Wiesel Chairman of the President's Commission on the Holocaust. He was also a guiding force in the establishment of the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum. In his best known work, Night, Elie Wiesel describes his experiences and emotions at the hands of the Nazis during the Holocaust.

Professor Gerard Quinn, Director of the Centre for Disability Law and Policy at NUI Galway, has highlighted the importance of Wiesel's work from a legal point of view. He explains: "The Nazis cloaked their naked power in the language of law and used a 'tactic of legality' to take power. It was not for nothing that the Nazis created their own 'League of Nazi Lawyers'. Elie Wiesel's life work reminds us that law, even with order, is nothing if not connected to justice. It is sad but true that this elemental lesson needs to be re-learned from generation to generation. Mr Weisel's work has played an indispensable role in transmitting this warning form history to the present generation. Since law students are the future conduits of power in society they especially need to learn this lesson. By his presence in NUI Galway Elie Wiesel reminds us of the moral depravity of totalitarian regimes and opens hearts and minds to a higher notion of law."

Comedian Abie Philbin Bowman » Cairnes Theatre on Wednesday, 15th of October.

Describing himself as a "comedian without borders", Abie Philbin Bowman looks set to become the next big name in Irish comedy, and his next stop is NUI Galway! Abie debuted in London in the legendary Comedy Store alongside John Bishop and Frankie Boyle. As well as headlining gigs across the country, he has performed comedy in cities as far afield as Boston and Lahore. Abie's first one-man show, Jesus: The Guantanamo Years, took the 2006 Edinburgh Fringe by storm. Abie's new show Eco-Friendly Jihad tells the story of an environmentalist who – in a desperate bid to reduce U.S. carbon emissions – joins Al Qaeda. Eco-Friendly Jihad made its professional debut at the 2008 Galway Comedy Festival where it sold out and was also a huge success in Edinburgh in August 2008. Where to next for Israel and Palestine? » Cairnes Theatre on Wednesday, 21st of January.

The turmoil in the Gaza strip has been well documented. Since 27 December 2007, when Israel first invaded Gaza, our television screens and newspapers have been saturated with images of suffering and bloodshed. While the diplomacy seems to be gaining momentum and urgency, Israeli military attacks are growing stronger by the day, as is the level of death and destruction. Israel's main ally, the United States, has yet to play a major role in this conflict. While the country is usually at the forefront of world affairs, Barack Obama has remained silent on the issue for fear of undermining George W. Bush's role as President of the United States. All that is set to change next Tuesday, when Barack Obama takes on his new role and faces a very difficult first day on the job. It will be interesting to see which policy he will advance, leading a country that is a friend of Israel but which also tries to show itself as an advocate of human rights. Gaza is certainly on the cusp of change. It is in this highly-charged political context that the Law Society is excited to host our most controversial panel discussion yet. This Wednesday, 21st of January, we will be joined by both pro-Israeli and pro-Palestinian speakers as we approach the contentious question – where to next for Israel and Palestine? Advocating the Israeli point of view will be Seán Gannon, Irish freelance journalist and chair of "Irish Friends of Israel". Joining him in discussing Israeli policy will be Tom Carew, chair of the "Ireland – Israel Friendship League" who frequently appears in the Irish Times and RTÉ news. Speaking on behalf of Palestine will be Dr. Philomena McKenna, who has lived in the Middle East and has worked on the Galway Palestine Children's Appeal. The Law Society will confirm another speaker nearer to the event. NUI Galway has never lacked opinionated students voicing their concern regarding the Gaza problem. Next Wednesday, audience members may also participate in the forum, as there will be an opportunity to direct questions to the panel. The discussion is set to be a highly contested one, coming at a time where Middle Eastern politics are at the forefront of Irish media.

RTE's Mark Little » Cairnes Theatre on Wednesday, 11th of February.

Foreign Affairs Reporter, Broadcaster and Author, Mark Little, appeared at NUI Galway this month in an event hosted by NUI Galway's Law Society. In his lecture, Little addressed whether Ireland has, or could have, a political leader of Obama's stature. Mark Little began his journalistic career at the Sunday Business Post before being hired by RTÉ as a TV news reporter in 1991. He was RTÉ's first Washington correspondent between 1995 and 2001, covering three US presidential election campaigns. He returned to Dublin to take up the post of RTÉ's Foreign Affairs Correspondent before joining Prime Time in 2002. Mark specialises in coverage of world affairs and was named TV Journalist of the Year in 2001 for his reporting from Afghanistan. His most recent book, The New America, was launched in September 2008. The book is the story of the forces that are transforming America. It helps you to look behind the American presidential election, and see the beginning of a reinvention. He also wrote and presented the documentary series Who's Afraid of Islam? and has written two books about his travels, Turn Left at Greenland and Zulu Time. The event will be run on a first come-first served basis; it will not be ticketed so arrive early to avoid disappointment. Non-Traditional Careers in Law Seminar » Siobhan McKenna Theatre on Tuesday, 17th of February.

Jonathon Irwin, Jack and Jill Foundation » Siobhan McKenna Theatre on Tuesday, 17th of February. The foundation was founded by Jonathan and his wife after they had a child, Jack, who suffered a severe developmental disorder at just two days old. On receiving advise from the senior paedietrician (spelling) they decided to take the child home and give him 24 care 7 days a week. They were lucky enough to be helped by local neighbours and nurses, hence the idea for the Jack & Jill foundation came into being. 14 families in Galway alone rely on the Jack and Jill Foundation to help them care for their infants. 250 in Ireland alone, and over 850 since the foundation's inception. Jonathan will enlighten us all on the issue of the babies that foundation provides for.

Dr Martin Mansergh T.D. » Cairnes Theatre on Wednesday, 18th of March.

Dr. Martin Mansergh, T.D., spoke at NUI Galway on Wednesday 18th March at 8pm in the university's Cairnes Theatre. The event, which was open to the public, was hosted by NUI Galway's Law Society. Martin Mansergh, is an Irish politician and historian. He is currently a Teachta Dála (TD) for Tipperary South and Minister of State. He was previously a senator from 2002 to 2007. He has played a leading role in formulating Fianna Fáil policy on Northern Ireland. Unusually among current prominent Irish nationalists, Mansergh is an Anglican born and raised in England. He entered the Irish Department of Foreign Affairs, being appointed a Third secretary in 1974 and became a First Secretary in 1977. Later recruited by Taoiseach Charles Haughey, he has worked for the Fianna Fáil party ever since, serving under three Fianna Fáil leaders as Director of Research, Policy and Special Advisor on Northern Ireland where he was involved in discussions between the nationalist parties and the Irish Government and met regularly with intermediary Father Alec Reid. Mansergh was a key member of the teams which formed the Fianna Fáil–Labour Party coalition in 1992 and the Fianna Fáil–Progressive Democrats coalition in 1997. As a senior adviser to successive Taoisigh Mansergh has played a key role in the Northern Ireland peace process over the last twenty years. For further information email nuiglawsociety@gmail.com. ## Students for Life Society

The key event of the year took place on Wednesday, November 12th, when speakers from the Silent No More Campaign spoke about the devastating personal effects of their abortions. They reminded everyone that abortion destroys women just as it destroys their children. Everyone was impressed by the courage of these women who sacrifice themselves to save other women from the terrible consequences of abortion.

The Life Society hosted a showing of "Bella" on Monday, January 19th in the Concourse. This movie was the winner of the Toronto Film Festival People's Choice Award through its powerful presentation of the infinite value of one human life.

Throughout the year, the society sent representatives to meetings and conferences involving pro-life issues. The society was represented at the Pro-Life Intervarsity Conference in Maynooth on February 28th and at the Pro-Life Campaign meeting in Dublin on September 7th marking the 25th anniversary of the 1983 abortion referendum. Lord Alton of Liverpool, who addressed the Life Society last year on the topics of embryonic stem cell research and abortion, was the main speaker of the PLC event.

We joined with the Pro-Life Campaign from Dublin for a leaflet drop here in Galway on April 4th. We distributed literature about embryonic stem cell research to mailboxes all over the city.

Members also attended many events all over the country in support of life. The Rally for Life at Stormont in Belfast on Saturday, October 18th showed opposition to the extension of the 1967 Abortion Act to the six counties. Members of the British Parliament, the Northern Irish assembly, and representatives of various pro-life groups spoke to a large crowd who remained enthusiastic despite the rain. Members also travelled to Cork on October 31st for the protest that was held in UCC following the decision to allow experimenting with embryos on campus and to Tullamore for the anniversary of the sending of a 14-year-old girl in state care to England for an abortion.

The final meeting and AGM took place Thursday, April 2nd at 12:30 in the Hub.

Life Society Events

This year the society held a total of 3 events.

Breaking The Silence » Concourse on Wednesday, 12th of November.

Special guests from the 'Silent No More' campaign share their personal experiences of abortion and terminated pregnencies. An evening of information and testimonies on the effects of abortion on women. All welcome!

Film: 'Bella' » TBC on Monday, 19th of January.

Lifesoc presents the highly-rated and award-winning 2007 film, 'Bella'. Set in New York, the film is about how one moment changed the lives of three people forever. Described by some as a pro-life movie. All are welcome!

Life Issues Intervarstiy » Dublin & Maynooth on Friday, 27th of February.

The Pro-Life Society of Maynooth College invites all young people interested in Life issues to take part in this year's Pro-Life Intervarsity Conference. The weekend aims to educate, inspire and re-enforce our commitment to building a culture of life in our colleges & workplaces, among family & friends and throughout our country. We will meet up at Bewley's in Dublin on Friday before a tour of Leinster House and Government Buildings, including a meeting with TDs and Senators including Ronan Mullen. On Saturday, the guest speakers will include Dr. Audrey Dillon of the Pro-Life Campaign and Dr. Brendan Purcell and a counsellor in crises pregnancies among other events. Lunch provided. Also social event in Brady' Pub, Maynooth with family fortunes quiz and DJ and finger food provided.

Literary & Debating Society

The Literary and Debating Society was founded in 1846 with the express intent, as John J. Gibson outlined to the assembled masses, to "elicit the latent sparks of genius in a few individuals, and send forth men of enlightened views and cultivated tastes".

Lit &Deb provide a forum for free speech and debate where students and staff can challenge the issues of the day, practicing the skills of oratory and critical thinking. Everything from politics and human rights to literature and sport are fair game for discussion inside the walls of the Literary and Debating Society. With our weekly debates, guest speaker and literary events Lit & Deb offers an enriched experience of university, outside of the confines of lectures and exam halls.

Our core aims are therefore:

To facilitate the advancement and enjoyment of free speech in NUIG.

To provoke debate and an interest in current affairs, politics, philosophy and literature.

To foster a love of debating at an early age among secondary school students and to continue to nurture this enthusiasm among university students through debates as well as through competitive debating and the rewards this brings both in terms of self actualisation and the widening of one's social circle.

To ensure the next generation not only love debating but also have the skills of oratory, persuasion and logic to advance in their debating hobby whether that takes them as far as the Kirwan on a Thursday night, to representing NUIG at international competitions or helps them advance in future careers.

Lit & Deb Events

This year the society held a total of 51 events.

TTHW Pledge Allegiance To The Queen » Kirwan Theatre on Thursday, 18th of September.

With comedian Patrick Keilty chairing the debate. For 70 years, these 26 counties have been a purist Gaelic paradise. Everyone speaks Irish, drinks poteen and falls asleep in mass. The turf comes in and the cattle go out, all to the faint but distinct tune of a lively fiddle, which can be heard everywhere you go. Everywhere, that is, except for the place where all one hears is the harpsichord and East 17, the unholy bastion of Elizabeth the Virgin Queen; Trinity College Dublin. Come along and hurl your insults at our oppressors in Lit & Deb's, not-to-be-missed free comedy event.

Gibs Night » Kirwan Theatre on Thursday, 25th of September.

1) First Workshop of 2008/2009 » AM 250 on Tuesday, 30th of September.

American Election Debate » Áras na MacLéinn on Thursday, 30th of October.

NUI Galway to Host Major US Presidential Election Debate Republican Grant Lally to go head-to-head with Democrat Bruce Morrison

Washington comes to NUI Galway on Thursday, 30 October, when the University hosts a US Presidential Election Debate featuring senior representatives of the Democrat and Republican parties. Just four days before the closely contested election, Grant Lally, national co-chairman of the Irish American Republicans, will go head-to-head in a debate with Bruce Morrison, former US Connecticut Congressman and author of the Morrison Visa Program. The event, which is open to the public, will be hosted jointly by NUI Galway's Law Society and Literary and Debating Society and takes place in the University's Áras na MacLéinn at 8pm. Grant Lally is former president of the Irish Lobby for Immigration Reform and McCain Delegate to the 2008 Republican National Convention. Recently he wrote that: "McCain is a responsible, experienced and respected leader who will strengthen America's relations with the world, raise the level of engagement with Ireland to cement the Irish peace process, and work more closely with America's friends and allies in Europe to build a more stable, prosperous and peaceful world". Bruce Morrison, described by the New York Times as a man of "intellect, compassion and vigour", has pledged his allegiance to Obama's ambitions of ending the war in Iraq, increasing energy independence and providing universal health care. The moderator for the debate will be NUI Galway Law Lecturer, Larry Donnelly, a native of Boston, Massachusetts, USA. According to Larry Donnelly: "Over the past few months we have seen the campaigns of the two main candidates evolve through the lens of unprecedented media interest in a US Presidential election. The 2008 election is set to be of major significance for Irish-American relations, with McCain, having an established history of personal involvement in the Irish peace process, and Obama, having recently appointed a "dream team" of high-profile Irish-American political advisors".

One of the students organising the event is Peter Mannion, who is studying Law at NUI Galway and spent his summer working as an intern in the Washington office of the Obama campaign. He is anticipating an exiting evening: "If the recently televised debates between the candidates themselves are anything to go by, there is no doubt that Lally and Morrison will succeed in replicating if not surpassing their controversial intensity".

Want to shape the debate? Want to have your questions answered?

Get the chance to ask the experts directly by submitting your proposed question to literaryanddebating@gmail.com by Friday 24th. The three broad areas we'll be looking at are:

Irish American Issues (eg. Foreign-Direct Investment, the Special Envoy, military use of Shannon Airport) Foreign Policy (eg. Iraq, Russia influence, the War on Terror)

Domestic Policy (which will be a mixture of social and economic issues, eg. Banking bail-outs, Abortion, Gay Marriage)

Submit your question with your name and contact number, if it's chosen, we'll be calling on you on the night to ask it yourself. Good luck!

Tickets are on sale now from Zhivago's on Shop Street, Galway, and from the NUI Galway Socs Box. Student tickets are €2 (valid student ID required) and non-student tickets are €10. For further information on the event please contact Louise Hamilton, Public Relations Officer of the Law Society, on 0860734033 or email nuiglawsociety@gmail.com

Paul Howard, author and Irish Times columnist, will be the guest of honour at a meeting of the Literary and Debating Society on Tuesday 18th of November in the Kirwan theatre at 7pm. Howard has been called "The sharpest writer of fiction in Ireland today"- Irish Mail on Sunday, and has penned thirteen bestselling books to date. The writer will be giving a public reading of his latest book in the series,Mr. S and the Secrets of Andorra's Box. In the novel, Ross, the same misogynistic rugby-playing Foxrock man, has miraculously managed to secure the job of national rugby coach of Andorra and finds himself living like the king of the Pyrenees. Of course, the slopes can be treacherous and Ross finds, once again, that life gets complicated. The book, which has been well-received was decribed as "scathing satire...the funniest Ross book so far"- Irish Independent. There will be a chance to ask Mr. Howard questions at the end. A reception will follow in Paddy's Bar, Prospect Hill.

Rebellion in University Debate » Kirwan Theatre, Concourse on Thursday, 5th of February.

"To stand in silence when they should be protesting makes cowards out of men" (Abraham Lincoln.) On Thursday the 5/02/09, at 7pm in the Kirwan Lecture Theatre, Lit and Deb are delighted to host the Rebellion in Universities Debate with special guests Eamon O'Cuiv and Muireann O'Dwyer. Lit and Deb is most pleased that cabinet minister Eamon O'Cuiv has accepted our invitation to return to NUIG, this time for a formal debate on the purpose of student protest. Mr. O'Cuiv having been on the receiving end of a student protest that turned ugly here on our own campus last semester, understandably has come strong views on the subject -

http://www.irishtimes.com/newspaper/breaking/2008/1210/breaking9.htm. He is speaking in proposition of the motion 'That This House Believes Student Protest Has Gone Too Far.' Opposing him, is this year's well known advocate of student activism, our Student Union President, Muireann O'Dwyer. Read more here:: http://litndeb.nuigalway.ie/

Literary and Debating Society Postpone Irving Debate Until September

It is with regret that the Literary and Debating Society of NUI Galway has had to postpone their much anticipated Holocaust Denial Debate featuring David Irving, until September. The debate was supposed to take place on 19th March with Irving opposing the motion "That This House Rejects The Work of David Irving" and another historian of the period proposing the motion.

The reason for the postponement was the unavailability of a qualified proposition speaker for the March 19th date. Society auditor, Dan Colley said "There are a number of talented historians who we have been in contact with who wish to challenge Irving but could not make the date that we have proposed". He added "The Literary and Debating Society apologise for any inconvenience caused by this decision, although I hope that our members understand that it was made with the best interests of a healthy and productive debate in mind"

On 22nd January the Lit & Deb held a debate on the motion "That this House would allow David Irving to speak at this House" which was passed 100 votes to 63. The meeting was open to the public and students and staff were allowed to vote. Dan Colley went on to say "We were given a mandate to invite David Irving to debate his views in our society by those who were interested enough to come to the debate and we intend on fulfilling that mandate in spite of opposition from a radical minority of people."

People who were to attend the debate needed signed up at the Socs Box in Aras na Mac Leinn will be able to sign up again in September. Their information will not be kept on record for September.

The Alcohol Debate » Kirwan Theatre on Thursday, 19th of March.

17) Final Workshop! » IT 250 on Tuesday, 24th of March.

Speaker of the Year » Kirwan Theatre on Thursday, 26th of March.

Tonight is our Speaker of the Year competition. The competitors are some of the finest speakers in the society. Tonight we will recognise their outstanding achievements to the society during the year. They will be armed with words, and pitted against each other in order to decide who is the society's best individual speaker.

The gladiators competitors have all proven their worth during Intervarsity Competitions, the prestigious Irish Times competition, the illustrious Internal Mace, and the maiden speakers competition. The speakers tonight are: -Sean Butler, -Conor Kelly, -James Hope, -Tony McDonnell, -Dan Colley, -Jackie Driscoll, -George Kaar, -Eileen Coughlan.

Mates and Dates Society

Mates and Dates Society was formed in January 2009 and became part of the current range of NUIG societies. The aim of the society is to promote friendship and interaction amongst all students in the University through social events and informal meetings. The society's founders believe that it is important to generate unity within the college population that is not entirely based on the consumption of alcohol as this does not always agree with the personal preferences of every student. Mates and Dates seeks to form long-lasting friendships and interpersonal relationships, it does not believe it is a matchmaking service, but it does promote social events that are centred on forming relationships if members are comfortable with attending such events. Above all the society is focused on allowing students to have as much fun as possible and to take a break from the pressures of academic life.

Seminar Series » C219 Arus De Brun on Friday, 30th of January.

Dr Claas Hermann Ernst Werner Röver "Zeta Functions"

Mathematics & Art » Áras na MacLéinn Foyer on Monday, 9th of February.

Seminar Series » C219 Arus De Brun on Friday, 13th of February. Mathematics and art have been intimately linked for thousands of years.

Inscribed above the entrance to Plato's academy were the words, "Let no-one ignorant of geometry enter". The Greek's obsession with symmetry echoed through the ages and was instrumental in the creation of the Taj Mahal and the Alhambra.

Escher was inspired by the tilings in the Alhambra to create many of his greatest works. The concept of the infinite has often been linked with hopelessness and despair. Yet the connections between art and mathematics are, even today, not widely known.

This exhibition seeks to highlight this link and explore how great works of art can be produced from mathematical ideas.

Each year MathSoc creates an exhibition which unites mathematics with art. This year's collection includes a number of fascinating 3D models and mathematically derived artwork.

Mr John Sheekey from UCD will speak on "Counting irreducibles in Polynomial Rings"

Guest Speaker » C219 Arus De Brun on Friday, 13th of March.

Dr Rachel Quinlan will speak on "Tales from the early days of character theory". For more information visit the society website.

Media Soc

Media Soc NUIG had a successful year. It was granted full status in relation to Societies in early Semester 1. The Committee worked well together organising events etc. Socs Day was very successful with Media Soc gaining over 500 members on the day. Well done to all involved. Although Media Soc only hosted 3 events they were very successful. Firstly our opening meeting with refreshments proved to be the right way to break the ice for our members to introduce themselves. Second meeting we had guest speaker from Galway's i radio Dave O'Connor. As a young person, Dave was able to relate to the audience very well and encouraged participation. Our final Guest Speaker was Conn from Clare FM. He was very successful in the world of Media and as a past student of NUIG he encouraged everyone to pursue their ambitions. He was very insightful in to the World Wide Web. We held various committee meetings throughout the year basing them on the Society training attended in September. Overall Media Soc was successful and has a bright future.

Mediasoc Events

This year the society had a total of 4 events that took place. These events can be divided into two categories: regular and special events.

Regular Events

This year we held 1 event that ran regularly over a number of weeks. This event was as follows: First meet and greet! ran for 1 week in AC213, beginning on Tuesday, 7/10/2008.

Special Events

This year we held 3 special events. These events were as follows:

Dave O Connor from I Radio » Dillon Theatre-On the concourse. on Monday, 20/10/2008.

Dave is a presenter on "I Radio" in Galway. He is originally from Dublin and is here to tell Media Soc about his career in the Media.

Conn Ó Muíneacháin DJ from Clare FM » Dillon Theatre (On the Concourse) on Tuesday, 18/11/2008.

Interested in any aspect of the Media? Why not come along and join in as we present Conn Ó Muíneacháin who presents the Breakfast show on Clare FM. Conn has worked in the Media with many years and is coming to introduce Media Soc to some of the finer points of Media. Conn also runs Edgecast Media, a podcasting and social media business. Everyone Welcome!

Media Soc AGM » AC 213 (Turn Right @ Bank of Ireland) on Thursday, 2/4/2009.

Musical Society

2008/2009 has been a year which has seen GUMS go from strength to strength in terms of membership, success and camaraderie. This year's committee have worked diligently and consistently throughout the year under the leadership of Laura Reid, our ever enthusiastic and organised Auditor.

The constitution underwent a great deal of important changes at the AGM on the 15th of April 2008. The position of Producer was removed and the duties of this role were divided between the roles of Auditor and Assistant Producer/Vice Auditor changing those to Auditor/Co-Producer and Vice Auditor/Co-Producer. Societies Liaison Officer was removed and two positions of Schools Liaison Officer were added. Society Musical Director was changed to Society Musician while the role of Musical Director was expanded to encompass all musical events organised by the society. Two Ordinary Committee Member positions were removed to make way for the addition of a second PRO Assistant and a Society Technician. The criteria for the presentation of Honorary Life Membership were also changed but these changes were later undone at the EGM on 9th January 09.

After the formation of the committee at the AGM, the task of deciding on a musical and obtaining the rights was undertaken. On April 23rd the new committee met and debated the issue to great length. In the end it was decided that we would go with the show suggested to us by AIMS and the GUMS 08/09 show was to be the devilish new 70's musical Disco Inferno. The show was scheduled to run in the Black Box Theatre from the 10th to the 14th of February 2009.

The EGM on the 30th September saw the election of Aoife Harhen as Vice Auditor/ Co-Producer, John Joyce as Secretary and Jill Dillon as Ordinary Committee Member. Stephen Reilly was also voted into the position of Director. Shane Fahy was elected to the position of Head of Set at an EGM on the 14th October. In addition to the weekly committee meeting it was agreed that the Production Team consisting of Producers, Director, Musical Director, Head of Set, Head of Costume and Choreographer would meet every week to ensure the effective production of the musical.

Societies Day gave us a good indication of what to expect for the coming year with hundreds of students signing up to be part of our society. Our current member list stands at approximately 350.

Administrative work aside, the GUMS year kicked off with the Auditions for Disco Inferno on the 25th September in the Bank of Ireland Theatre. This year saw approximately 140 students audition to be in the Cast and Chorus of the GUMS musical. This increased interest can be attributed to both the rising reputation of GUMS on campus and the committed work of our PR team. This year's auditions yielded a highly talented, enthusiastic and friendly cast who will undoubtedly ensure the continuation and strengthening of the society in the future.

Rehearsals were limited to 1 and 2 rehearsals a week on alternating weeks for the first semester, however after the Christmas break the intensity picked up as we started weekend rehearsals and combined singing, dancing and acting rehearsals.

Besides rehearsals for Disco Inferno, NUIG's Got Talent was the society's biggest event in the first semester and it proved to be one of the biggest events on campus. This was a talent competition which ran for four heats from the 16th of October to the 6th of November. Heats took place both in Aras Ui Cathail and the College Bar and the event brought out some of NUI Galway's most talented individual and groups. The final was held in the College Bar where 16 eager finalists performed to a packed audience. The winners Donal O'Driscoll and Colm Phelan, who won over the crowd with their fusion of traditional music and hip-hop dance, walked away the €1000 prize.

With most members being unable to resist the opportunity to see a musical, we organised a society outing to see Encore's production of West Side Story at the Black Box Theatre in November. The night was a valuable experience as it helped build rapport between cast members and contributed greatly to what has now become the most tightly knit cast GUMS has ever seen. It also gave us the opportunity to appreciate the production of another Galway based musical society. This outing also started a whole series of cast social nights out which brought an added social facet to the society outside of production of the musical.

The NUIG Schools' Musical Awards were overseen this year by our School Liaison Officers. Committee members attended shows produced by schools throughout the greater Galway area and the West of Ireland and reviewed them before nominating schools and their cast members for awards. The awards were held in the O'Flaherty Theatre on the 13th March and the participants were delighted Oscar style event complete with red carpets and an apple juice reception. Each school received a workshop given by a committee member, in either singing, acting or dancing and everyone involved in the scheme found it to be a highly rewarding and enjoyable experience whose success is a credit to the hard work and dedication of Ailbhe Harding.

The Musical Ball is one of the most anticipated events in the GUMS calendar as it offers the cast and crew of the show a chance to socialise in style. The evening of the 23rd of March kicked off in the College Bar where the DVD of Disco Inferno was played. Then it was off to the Galway Bay Hotel for a buffet dinner after which we danced the night away with the band the Neon Knight followed by a DJ. As ever the Musical Ball proved to be an evening of glamour and entertainment and a great night out for all.

The GUMS variety show took place on the 1st April in the second semester after the musical was over. This offered cast members and late sign-ups an opportunity to showcase their individual talents and perform their party pieces to the enthusiastic crowd.

This year saw the inclusion of a new event into the GUMS calendar in the form of the Costumes Auction. All costumes from Disco Inferno were auctioned or sold at the event in the College Bar on the 18th March in what proved to be a light-hearted and enjoyable evening. All proceeds were donated to the India fund being raised by active society and committee member Kate Costello who is going on a volunteering trip in the summer.

April saw approximately 15 of our members jetting off to London to see some West End musical productions. Experiencing the sensational Wicked and The Lion King while also taking in some sites and taking London's social scene by storm made this trip an unforgettable occasion for all.

Disco Inferno was an extraordinary success bringing GUMS its largest ever cast with 45 talented individuals performing in the show. The success would not have been possible without the ardour and effort of certain individuals. The organisation, devotion, leadership and hard work of Laura Reid and Aoife "Mother Hen" Harhen ensured that the GUMS musical would be an exceptional production and set the standard high for the rest of the production team to follow. Sinead Crawford showed her creativity, perseverance and tailoring talents as this year's Head of Costumes. The endless hours of preparation and teaching undertaken by Choreographer Michael Flanagan and Assistant Sive O Regan shone through in the fantastic dance routines which gave our show energy and brought the disco fever to the stage. MD Alison McGreevy led the band which brought the 70's show stoppers to life. Stephen Reilly showed his commitment and professionalism in tutoring the cast in the art of acting. Shane Fahy and his set crew, with the help and dedication of the cast, built us the incredible set on which our show became a reality. The unyielding dedication of our PR team Ciarán McDonagh and Kate Costello under the leadership of Eoin Cashman are to be accredited with ensuring that every show was preformed to a large and enthusiastic crowd.

Overall GUMS has had a brilliantly successful year. Not only has this year's committee managed to put the large scale production Disco Inferno and make it a success despite the current economic climate, they also ensured that the society's other events were run to the highest standard and increased the reputation of GUMS both on campus and in Galway city as a whole. This year formed the largest cast GUMS has seen and also tied them together in bonds of friendship which will last for many years to come.

Thanks to Auditor Laura Reid whose dedication and organisation inspired an increased effort from her committee, we can be confident that GUMS will continue to develop and grow in future years.

Music Society

MusicSoc is one of the most active societies in NUI Galway with both weekly and one-off events, including Concerts, Jamming Sessions, Table Quizzes, Music Lessons, and a trip to Achill in the second semester. There will be weekly jammin sessions in the College Bar on Wednesdays at 7.30, not to mention the Open Mic nite afterwards and of course Witless makes its return in the second semester.

MusicSoc Events

This year the society had a total of 15 events that took place. These events can be divided into two categories: regular and special events.

Regular Events

This year we held 2 events that ran regularly over a number of weeks. These events were as follows:

Open Mic ran for 10 weeks in College Bar, beginning on Wednesday, 24/9/2008.

Open Mic is open for anyone to get up on stage and play, sing, tell a joke whatever rely.... There are prizes for whoever gets up to play, and a bonus prize for the best performer.

Witless Heats ran for 3 weeks in College Bar, beginning on Tuesday, 20/1/2009.

Special Events

This year we held 2 special events. These events were as follows:

Witless Sign Up » Socs Box on Thursday, 27/11/2008.

Witless Batle of the Bands » College Bar on Tuesday, 10/2/2009.

After four weeks of heats (Tuesday nights in the College Bar, 13th Jan—3rd Feb), the finalists will square up for the final showdown in the College Bar. The coveted witless prize, which includes time in a recording studio, will guarantee a night of intense musical competition, culminating in the audience and judging panel decisions. Stephen Bennett from Comedy Soc and NUIG's Got Talent Finalist will be doing 10 minute standup to start the show.

Muslim Youth Society

It has been a great year for the Muslim Youth Society to organize various activities to cater the students in NUIG as well as the local Muslims community. Throughout 2008/2009 session, the committee has managed to hold 5 events all together.

Muslim Youth Soc Events

This year the society held a total of 5 events.

EGM » Aras Ui Cathaill on Saturday, 18th of October.

Muslims, Christians & True Jesus » LLT Clinical Skills Institute (CSI) on Thursday, 23rd of October.

This is joined event with FOSIS entitled "Muslim, Christian & The True Jesus". a chance for both muslins and non-Muslims to have a talk and dialogue with Idris Tawfiq, a former Roman Catholic priest who embraced Islam.

Charity Week » CSI lecture theatre on Friday, 24th of October.

Cakes were sold to collect donations for Palestine relief.

Nasyeed Extravaganza 09-A New Beginning » Aras Ui Cathail on Sunday, 25th of January.

Nasyeed Extravaganza (NEXT) is a nasyeed competition that aims to put forward nasyeed to the public. With that in mind, the Muslim Youth Society is bringing NexT closer to the Irish community by organizing Nasyeed Extravaganza Eire (NexT-E) with the aim that it will be an annual event in Ireland as well. This program is dedicated for Gaza. Fundraising activities for Gaza will be done. All proceeds will be channeled through Federation Of Student Islamic Societies (FOSIS).

ISOC 101 Ireland » RCSI, Dublin on Saturday, 28th of March.

This programme is targeted at ISOCs members, aiming to make life for them in the ISOCs (MYS) more manageable and easier to cope with and organise. Anybody who is also interested in joining the ISOCS (MYS) in the future are more than welcome to come along as well. In that way, the future isocs will insh'Allah be equipped with some useful tools for the term insh'Allah.

MYS will cover your transportation to Dublin:)

North American Student Society

The 2008/2009 academic year was the first full year of NASS. We held several events that were well attended by Americans, Canadians, Irish and other Europeans. Some of the most successful events were as follows: Welcome back party, Sept; Dodgeball tournament, Nov; Christmas gift exchange party, Dec; Superbowl party, Feb. Our committee held regular meetings once a month and were in contact via email in between. We have learned a lot in our first year as a full society, we have learned from our events on what works and what does not work, as well we have talked to other societies and received some helpful tips from them. Next year, we hope to establish a volunteer event through Alive. Overall it was a very successful first year for our society and we look forward to implementing changes next year to allow our society to be even more successful.

North American Student Soc Events

This year the society held a total of 4 events.

DODGEBALL TOURNAMENT » St. Joseph's Community Centre on Saturday, 15th of November.

Dodgeball Tournament! Please contact nass@socs.nuigalway.ie if you are interested!

Christmas Party » River Inn on Friday, 28th of November.

Christmas gift exchange party! Come celebrate being finished your term and wind down with some fun games!

Superbowl Party » The Cellar on Sunday, 1st of February.

Superbowl party! Please come and cheer on your team. A chance to watch your favorite team and meet some new people!

AGM » SU, Aras na Mac Leinn on Monday, 11th of May.

Nothing Specific Society

The Nothing Specific Society was set up last year to cater to students whose interests weren't met by all those 'specific' societies already out there. With so much on offer by NUI Galway societies, the very idea of 'nothing specific' proved very appealing to students overwhelmed with choice!

This year we have continued with our pledge to bring a diverse array of events to the campus, from our aeronautic challenge event to NUIGs biggest, baddest RPS* competition!

We also got involved in Múscailt and celebrated the society's first birthday with a charity event for the Jack & Jill Foundation in January.

*That's Rock-Paper-Scissors, for those not in the know....

Nothing Specific Society Events

This year the society held a total of 8 events.

NSS Open Forum » AC214 - then the Cellar on Thursday, 2nd of October.

Just a general get-together for all our members to come along and get to know the society. Feel free to give us any ideas for what the society should do and we'll let you know of our plans. Afterwards free food in the cellar as well as free passes to Cuba*.

Rock, Paper, Scissors Competition » Smokies on Thursday, 16th of October.

A laxidasical competition of the classic competitive sport. All welcome to take part. Will you be NUIG's RPS undisputed Champion 2008?

Batman vs Superman Debate » O Flahety Theatre on Thursday, 30th of October.

The longest standing debate of the 20th century finally comes to a head as some of NUIG's finest intellectuals discuss the finer points over whether Batman or Superman is truly the better hero. The floor will be open to all, so come along to throw in your opinion or absorb those of others. There is also a Halloween party in Cuba afterwards (comic book themed fancy dress Halloween party) for you nightowls.

Paper Airplaine Contest + Kite Workshop » Circulating Area in The I.T Building on Wednesday, 12th of November.

The Paper Airplane Contest has two areas, first of all who can make a paper airplane to fly the farthest and secondly who can make the most visually impressive airplane (airplanes will be made solely out of one A4 sheet of paper). The Kite Workshop is a guide on how to make and fly your own kite. All welcome. All materials provided.

1st Birthday Party » Club De Burgo's on Sunday, 25th of January.

The NSS are having a Birthday Party to celebrate the one year anniversary of the founding of the society. It is also a charity event in support of the "Jack and Jill Children's Foundation". There will be fun and games to keep you entertained. All welcome!

History of Games Night » AC204 on Tuesday, 3rd of February.

The N.S.S is to hold a history of video games night for all interested in the medium of the video game. Thats right games, in video. Along with a number of games available on the night to tickle your nostalgia bone, the N.S.S crew will be at hand to regale anyone interested with facts about their favorite consoles and the history of their evolution. And for anyone who thinks they're man (or woman) enough we're going to hold a Goldeneye tournament where you'll find out if youre as good as you think you remember you were. See you then...

Seanchas » The Space, Áras na MacLéinn on Tuesday, 10th of February.

The Space, NUI Galway's Nothing Specific Society host a storytelling evening inspired by the traditional Irish entertainment form.

Seanchas: a term meaning "ancient history and tradition" including storytelling, oral tradition and talking. An oral lore that encompasses a wide variety of subjects, passed on by narration and discussion. Seanachas will be an entertaining evening of storytelling and poetry reciting, inspired by this traditional Irish art form. A relaxed setting where students will be encouraged to participate in the fun or just soak up the atmosphere. Either original work or reciting of old favorites is equally welcome.

A.G.M. » AC 204 on Tuesday, 3rd of March.

All welcome to the NSS Annual General Meeting. Free tea and coffee after!!!

Orchestra Society

The NUI Galway orchestra, consisting of strings, woodwind and brass had a very successful year. The orchestra was conducted by Hugh Kelly and the leader was Aileen Maloney. The orchestra took part in the Muscailt Arts Festival and other performances took place in both Galway and Cork, where they were joined by choirs Cantairi Chonamara and the UCC Staff Choir. This year's repertoire included Schubert's 'Symphony No. 2' and Mozart's 'Kyrie' and 'Regina Coeli'.

Orchestra Soc Events

This year the society had a total of 26 events that took place. These events can be divided into two categories: regular and special events.

Regular Events

This year we held 2 events that ran regularly over a number of weeks. These events were as follows:

Rehearsal ran for 9 weeks in Lower Aula Maxima, beginning on Monday, 6/10/2008.

Orchestra rehearsal takes place every Monday at 7pm in the Aula Maxima.

Rehearsals ran for 12 weeks in Siobhan McKenna Theatre, beginning on Monday, 12/1/2009.

Orchestra rehearsal takes place every Monday at 7pm in the Siobhan McKenna Theatre.

Special Events

This year we held 5 special events. These events were as follows:

Schubert's Symphony no. 2 » Aula Maxima Upper on Monday, 9/2/2009.

The Orchestra Society will perform Franz Schubert's Symphony No.2 in B flat major: a four movement work full of rich modulations, syncopations and high drama from beginning to end! The Second Symphony is a marvellous work written when Schubert was just eighteen years old and which was only first performed in public fifty years after the composer's death. Opening with an arresting slow introduction, the first movement is full of vigour and there is some beautiful work by the woodwinds to savour. The lyrical Andante is followed by a lively minuet. The finale recreates the joyful mood of the first movement including touches of humour.

Concert » St. Nicholas Collegiate Church on Sunday, 29/3/2009.

A concert with Cantairi Chonamara and the UCC Staff Choir including works by Schubert and Mozart

Trip » Cork on Friday, 3/4/2009.

Palestinian Solidarity Society

Welcome to our new society, whose aims and objectives are:

- a.)To raise awareness of the International plight of the Palestinian people.
- b.)To promote a just and equitable settlement in accordance with UN resolutions and International law, that would recognise and institutionalise the full human and national rights of the Palestinian people.
- c.)To develop and co-ordinate grassroots support for Palestinian rights among the media and concerned nongovernmental organisations.
- d.)To foster links between Palestinian and Irish Institutions and organisations in the areas of Health, education and the global economy.
- e.)To promote Palestinian culture,including literature,music and other arts in Ireland.
- f.) To encourage the media to attend to Palestinian voices in order to contribute to informed reporting on the current Middle East conflict.

To facilitate its aims and objectives, the Palestinian Solidarity society ran various events this year, from awareness-raising events such as the screening of Occupation 101, as well as fund-raisers and support initiatives.

Palestine Solidarity Soc Events

This year the society held a total of 9 events.

EGM » The Hub, Aras Na Mac Leinn on Tuesday, 14th of October.

Phil Soc Events

This year the society held a total of 8 events.

AGM » Smokey's on Wednesday, 1st of October.

Philosophy - what does it mean to you? » Smokey's on Tuesday, 14th of October.

This week we will be talking about "Philosophy-what does it mean to you?". This should bring about questions such as; what is philosophy? what is it to do philosophy? and what does philosophy mean to you personally? Everyone is welcome and no prerequisite knowledge is necessary, so just come down to SMOKEY'S at 7 on TUESDAY and join in!! We'll head down to the Blue Note afterwards!

Philosophy Soc Meeting » Smokey's on Tuesday, 28th of October.

"What is mind? No matter. What is matter? Never mind." Berkeley. Can we actually be certain that we have a body? Is that really your pint? This week we will be discussing the 'mind-body problem' at Smokey's at 7!

Beauty: Is it skin deep? » Smokey's on Tuesday, 11th of November.

This week we'll be down at Smokey's Tuesday at 7 talking about "Beauty: Is it skin deep?". Hope to see you all there!

The Arts of Living and Ageing » Smokey's on Tuesday, 18th of November.

Instead of our usual discussion group in Smokey's we'll be hosting Markus Worner, the former head of NUIG philosophy department, who will be here in the Quad giving a talk: he's going to tell us how we can live the "Good Life" at any age and will say a few words about the Galway Wisdom project, an initiative he is setting up.

It'll be worth taking an hour out to come down for a thought-provoking talk with a difference! It is on in *QA003*, the Physiology lecture hall at * 7pm-8pm* and we will have someone waiting at the archway of the Quad between 6.40-7pm to direct you to the venue.

Absolutely everyone is welcome-there is a reception afterwards!!

Meddling in other Mens' Affairs » QA003, The Quad on Tuesday, 20th of January.

Political theory is dominated by a myth, the myth of the necessity of the state. Dr.Gerard Casey UCD is presenting 'A Case for Anarchy: Meddling in other Mens' Affairs' on Tuesday at 7pm in the Quad. Reception afterwards.

Philosophy of Violence » QA003, The Quad on Tuesday, 3rd of February.

We are going to watch A Clockwork Orange followed by a debate about the philosophical implications of violence as displayed in the movie. Refreshments too.

What does it mean to be Doing Philosophy » QA003 on Thursday, 19th of February.

Professor Graham Parkes, Head of Philosophy UCC will be giving a provocative talk "What does it mean to be Doing Philosophy?" This is open to anyone with an interest in philosophy, and will include sections on Chinese philosophy! Reception afterwards

Other Information

We held committee 6 meetings during the year. We have not held our AGM yet. Our total membership stands at 334 members.

Physics Society

The Physics Society is currently the only completely undergraduate-run departmental society in the College of Science. Throughout the year we have organised many social events catering to undergraduate science students such as the Science Ball, Science Parties, Mystery Tours, and also a year-long football league. Our general meetings were held weekly, where we discuss topical scientific issues, watch DVDs, go bowling, or had Q&A sessions with postgraduate students and fourth year science students. We travelled to the Netherlands in January to visit the European Space Agency's Space Research and Technology Centre in Noordwijk, and in February we sent a team to the inaugural Institute of Physics Intervarsity Quiz, where we finished second to UCC. For RAG week we organised a dunk tank outside the College Bar in conjunction with three other societies - BizSoc, FilmSoc and Rotaract Soc - which raised €1100 for charity in four hours.

Physics Soc Events

This year the society had a total of 56 events that took place. These events can be divided into two categories: regular and special events.

Regular Events

Poker Society

This year our society mainly ran weekly poker tournaments.

These tournaments usually ran on Monday nights from six o'clock or half five, they ran until we weren't allowed to continue as we played too late into the night. We had an attendance of about 40 members on average, each enjoying hours of fun at our poker tables.

During the games the committee had numerous discussions about how to run the tournaments, what sort of games to play and how to best organise them. We also had independent committee meetings discussing special events and equipment orders etc.

The main event that we ran was the Las Vegas themed end of year party in Halo. We filled the club and all attendees enjoyed a great night with games like blackjack and roulette.

Mainly our society organised a load of great events and all involved had a fantastic time.

Poker Events

This year the society had a total of 10 events that took place. These events can be divided into two categories: regular and special events.

Regular Events

This year we held 1 event that ran regularly over a number of weeks. This event was as follows:

Good Bye Se Dao Party » Bierhaus on Friday, 6th of March.

Witajcie/ Nimen hao/ Hello:)

As some of you already know, we will be saying good bye to our good friend and committed Polish Soc member, Se Dao, who is going away to look for another Polish Society in France:) On this occassion we decided to meet up this Friday at 8 pm in Bierhaus (2 Henry Street, Galway). Let's make this an unforgettable experience for Se Dao! Or if you never met Se Dao or any other member from our multi national Society, consider this a good place to start:) Hope to see you all there,

Polish Soc Team

Marzanna drowning Party' with Polish Soc » College Bar on Friday, 20th of March.

As we are all fed up with winter and would love to welcome spring for good, we decided to help the weather a little bit. In order to succeed we will need some man power in College Bar on Friday, 20th of March at 6 pm, just one day before the end of winter (according to European calendar) and Equinox (one of the two times during the year, when the night and day are approximately equally long). On this night we will be following the very old Polish tradition: burning and drowning of Marzanna, the goddess of winter. According to our ancestors, the straw mannequin symbolizing Marzanna must be drown on that night so the winter is gone for good.

So join us on that special night, observe this interesting tradition and welcome with us this most anticipated lady this year – The Spring...

Hope to see you all,

Xoxo;)

Magda & Polish Soc

EASTER EGG PAINTING PARTY » College Bar on Friday, 3rd of April.

In the spirit of the Polish tradition which was a theme in our last "Marzanna drowning party" we would like to invite you to the EASTER EGG PAINTING PARTY this Friday, 3rd of April @ 8pm in The College Bar. Lots of fun ahead of us: we have all the equipment necessary to paint beautiful eggs, the only thing we need is you. So come along, bring a good humor and ideas! The owner of the best egg will get a SWEET prize;) Właściciel najładniejszego jajka dostanie SŁODKĄ nagrodę;) Ohh I really had to write it in Polish, for those of you who don't know, the word "egg" in Polish have two meanings so this last sentence really came out great;)
Anyway, we hope to see you all, and we promise you will not regret it:)

Psychological Society

The Psychological Society aims to ensure that psychology in all its forms is promoted and projected to as wide an audience as possible. The only requirement for membership is an interest in psychology (whether mild or intensely passionate!) and an eagerness to meet others and engage in a wide range of activities incorporating both the serious side of psychology, and the light-hearted social side; both equally interesting and enticing!

Rotaract Soc

Rotaract is an international organisation, with thousands of members who we collaborate with on a regular basis. Currently Rotaract Galway is the largest and most successful Club in Europe and recieved its chartering in July 2007.

The society's motto is 'Service Above Self,' an objective it obtains through service projects, event organisation and it's members addressing the communities' physical and social needs while promoting international understanding and peace through a framework of friendship and service.

Rotaract SOC is now in its third year here in NUI Galway and its 41st year worldwide. We strive to give back to the community while having the craic! We volunteer within the community, with local organisations as well as fundraising for charities that we feel need our support. We help causes that we feel are relevent to students today by organising fun social events, sporting events, quizzes and parties!

Since we started on campus, we have run a host of events, from the fashion show to dodgeball, Fear Factor to a wheelchair scavenger hunt as well as a skydive to raise awareness and funds for a number of different causes! We won 'Best New Society' at the Society awards 2007 and 'Best Event' for the fashion show in 2007 & 2008 as well as 'Best Poster' for NUIG Assassins 2009.

The unique feature of Rotaract is that we are not restricted to running events to a specific theme, we can run any event that our members want and we can do it for any charity we want. We promote everything that societies stand for - social interaction, personal and professional development, but our biggest aspect is fundraising. We are able to give our members a way to give back to the community or a favored charity in a way that is not only satisfying but also great fun. Any event that our members suggest is taken into consideration and usually ends up being run. Rotaract also offers opportunities to explore professional avenues through connections with the Rotary club.

Rotaract offers members opportunites that can't be found elsewhere and will continue to do so, on campus and in Galway. We intend to keep raising money and keep letting students enjoy themselves in a productive and fun atmosphere.

Rotaract Soc Events

This year the society had a total of 50 events that took place. These events can be divided into two categories: regular and special events.

Regular Events

This year we held 2 events that ran regularly over a number of weeks. These events were as follows: Weekly meeting ran for 9 weeks in AC201, beginning on Tuesday, 30/9/2008.

Students sign up at the front desk of the college bar between 9.30am and 5.30pm on Monday the 9th of February at a cost of 10 euro. There will be no allowance for late entrants.

Sign up will consist of us making a copy of your student ID card (only valid cards will be accepted) and taking your photo for use in the game. On Monday the 16th of February all entrants will pick up an envelope from the Socs Box with their name on it. Within the envelope there will be a photo of another student (your primary target) with a copy of their student ID to aid tracking. It is then your mission to track down your target and assassinate* them. Upon assassination, the target's envelope (and photos of all previous kills) must be passed on immediately to the successful assassin, at which point your new mission will be to track down the primary target in the newly attained envelope. The game continues in this manner until either only one assassin is left in the game or until the Friday (the 20th of February) deadline of 2.30pm at which point the assassin with the most kills will be deemed the winner.

Once the 2.30pm deadline has been reached, the remaining assassins will have exactly one hour to return their envelope with enclosed kill photos to the stand in the Hub. No late arrivals will be accepted!

*to assassinate your target you must lightly tap your opposition on the back, show them their photo and tell them that they have just been assassinated.

The rules of the game are as follows:

- The game can only be played within college campus boundaries (a map of what is considered 'college campus' will be enclosed within the starter envelope)
- Safe zones include lectures, labs, tutorials, toilets, religious buildings, workplaces and a two feet circle around any coffee machine
- It is advised that assassinations be made in the presence of a witness
- Starter envelopes (with photos of previously assassinated targets enclosed) must be kept on your person whilst on campus at all times during the week of the 16th to the 20th of February
- No contact can be made above the shoulders or below the waist
- Disputes will be settled by organisers
- Reported inappropriate behaviour will not be tolerated and will result in assassins being disqualified and possibly being reported to the university

All proceeds will be in aid of 9 NUIG final year engineering students going on an eight week volunteering programme (constructing a new youth centre) in Addis Ababa, the capital of Ethiopia.

Socialist Soc

The Socialist Society is an extension of the Galway Socialist Party. The Socialist Party is the only party in Ireland which fights for the interests of working class people against cuts, privatisation and attacks on living standards. We are committed to a socialist society where all those who produce the wealth in society should be in control of how it is spent.

This year we focused on a number of highly topical areas, including of course the re-introduction of fees as well as organising events to highlight the Gaza conflict, Obama's recent election and an information and protest stand in the build up to the (canceled) visit from fascist David Irving. The society also organised a number of general awareness and information events about socialist idea,s and its relevance today.

Socialist Soc Events

This year the society held a total of 19 events.

Capitalist Crisis- Socialist alternative » AC215 on Wednesday, 17th of September.

Is socialism back on the agenda? » AC215 on Wednesday, 15th of October.

The capitalist market is in turmoil, banks are being bailed out and even nationalised. Is this the end of free-market dominance? Is socialism back on the agenda? Come along and have your say, all welcome

Will Obama bring Change? » O'Flaherty Theatre on Thursday, 30th of October.

A speaker (flown over especially) from the US, will give an inside, socialist view of the upcoming presidential elections. Is there any difference between the pro-business policies of Obama and McCain? What's the alternative in the US? Following the talk, there'll be a discussion and reception. All welcome. Please Note: venue changed to O'Flaherty Theatre

Socialist Party National Conference » Carlingford on Friday, 7th of November.

What is Socialism? » AC215 on Wednesday, 19th of November.

With economic crisis, bank bail-outs and nationalisations more and more people are looking for an alternative to the capitalist market. What should socialists do in the present climate? How can we rebuild the labour movement? Come to the meeting and find out. The introduction will be followed by questions and discussion. All welcome.

German Revolution 1918 » AC215 on Wednesday, 26th of November.

The German Revolution starting in Kiel in 1918 was a potential turning point in history. Its success could have meant the spread of socialism from the USSR across Europe and the world. After the October Revolution of 1917, the events in Germany from 1918 to 1919 are some of the most important for socialists. Where did it all go wrong? Why wasn't there an international revolution following 1917? What lessons does it hold for today? Come along and find out! The introduction will be followed by discussion. All welcome.

Gaza Conflict, the Socialist Solution » AC201 on Wednesday, 14th of January.

900 dead, thousands injured... Hamas rockets have only served to worsen the crisis and alienate the Israeli masses. Mass movements of Palestinians, Israelis and Egyptians, united in struggle, could break the Gaza borders and build a socialist alternative to this capitalist conflict. Come along to the meeting and find out more! *CHANGE OF TIME AND VENU* Now: AC201 (Concourse) 8pm

Anti-Fascism, No to Irving Stall » Aras na macLeinn on Thursday, 22nd of January.

Suas Society

Suas is a youth and education focused organisation, which facilitates young people to address educational disadvantage at home and overseas. Suas Nationwide is a registered N.G.O. and charity (CHY 14931). We raise money for our partner schools in India and Kenya throughout the year and also get involved with volunteering on a local basis. Twice a week we run a homework club in Lisbrook House for the Galway Refugee Support Group. We run evening courses and seminars to help engage, inspire and inform people about development issues. The Suas volunteer program offers the chance to volunteer as a teaching assistant in India and Kenya for 10 weeks in the summer. Along the way we have lots of craic, with the Bollywood movie night and St. Patrick's Day face painting being some of the highlights of the year, not to mention winning a the first ever 'Most Soccessful' Society Award for our work this year.

Voluntary Services Abroad Society

Voluntary Services Abroad (VSA) is an NUI Galway based charity which enables medical students to bring medical supplies to countries in the developing world and to assist in healthcare delivery to some of the most deprived people in the world. We also assist in the development of healthcare facilities through building projects overseen by engineering students.

Founded in 1977, VSA has sent more than 400 medical students as healthcare volunteers to Philippines, Belize, Vietnam, India, Ecuador, Peru, Zambia, Malawi, Tanzania and Ethiopia.

Fund-raising efforts include classic activities such as bedpushing, cycle marathons, concerts, flag days, table quiz and coffee mornings as well as blood pressure clinics and bagpacking in supermarkets. Events such as the bungee jump and racey calendar have gained notoriety for the VSA on campus. New events happen every year and this year will be no exception so watch this space so you can become involved in some of the most fun events on campus while also supporting a very worthy cause!

All of the money raised goes directly towards developing and supporting medical services in the developing world. We are grateful for any support you extend to us in our efforts to raise funds for the 2008 mission.

Young Fine Gael Society

Young Fine Gael, the Young United Irelanders, is an Irish Nationalist Youth Movement that pledges allegiance and fidelity to the Irish Republic. The party derives its inspiration and endeavor from this bedrock. Young Fine Gael is an autonomous yet integral part of the Fine Gael party. It seeks to advance the political representation and objectives of the youth of Ireland through the vehicle of the Fine Gael Party. Young Fine Gael is wholly committed to the development of young people at all levels of political life, and in communion with the Fine Gael Party seeks to maximise the electoral objectives of Fine Gael. Young Fine Gael in NUI, Galway is a collection of students from all over the country. Members of Young Fine Gael on campus are passionately committed to the concept of having young people involved in politics. We believe that the involvement of young people in the Irish body politic is fundamental to the amelioration of the lives of all citizens of this country. Meetings of Young Fine Gael are conducted in a relaxed fashion. Everyone is welcome to share their views and get involved in our activities. This years events included attending the Young Fine Gael National Conference in February as well as hosting a number of TDs at our weekly meetings. We also held a number of open discussion forums on topics such as the Lisbon Treaty and the future of the Fine Gael Party.

NUIG SOCIETIES ALIVE REPORT

There are 88 societies with a total membership of over 5,813 registered individual student members (15% increase on last year). 3091 of these are first years. The reason for the high percentage of first years is that while most students remain members of societies many do not re-register on societies' day in subsequent years although they remain very active in their societies. Our method of sign up is by swiping student ID cards on the two societies' days and students can also register on NUIG YourSpace. Because societies receive free text allocations for their members, previous members are removed at the start of each academic year from the texts, although they do remain on e-mail lists. Our challenge now is to give students more reason to login to YourSpace and re-register. The upgrades to YourSpace which are in the developmental stage hope to address this challenge. The result currently is that while the figures of students in societies are impressive they underestimate the level of involvement.

The Societies have a combined membership of 22,881 (18% increase on last years figures) with students joining an average of 3.86 societies.

Societies enrich the social, community and cultural life of the campus with their presence. They bring colour and excitement to the University which enriches all of our lives. By organising events of educational, cultural, social and humanitarian value they broaden our perspectives and enhance the university experience for their fellow students while contributing to both the local community and the wider world. In the last six years they have contributed over €125,000 to charity and worked in places as diverse as the Philippines and the Westside Community Centre. To celebrate this community engagement and giving, a new Society Award has been introduced at national level at the Board of Irish College Awards: the 'Best Civic Contribution' Award, for which NUIG will be competing on April 15th.

235 society members participated in ALIVE this year which equals a 60% increase on last year's participation. 184 of these are committee members, the remaining participants participated in society activities such as homework clubs and other activities organized by the societies. The 184 committee participants represent 34% of the total number of students on society committees. The 235 ALIVE participants volunteered 51,115 hours during this academic year; 42,907 were volunteered by committee members. This suggests that the hours volunteered by all committee members equal the equivalent of 78 full time workers which on minimum wage would cost approximately €1,135,700

The societies had a turnover in excess of €931,000 last year. €730,000 of that was raised by the societies themselves and €303,698 was given to charity. To fully appreciate Societies contribution to the University and to put this in context, societies provide the equivalent of 78 full time workers providing social, cultural and educational support to the university community with a budget of €399,602 which they have raised themselves.

ALIVE offers an opportunity for the hard working members of the societies to gain official recognition by the University for their contribution as volunteers. This is the third year of our on-line system for society members to gain their certificates.

In the ALIVE portfolio builder participants can track their hours and can also keep a blog of their experiences, which they can then choose to share with their committee or keep as their own private musings. The societies set their own criteria for involvement by their members in the ALIVE programme and approve their applications. The individual members build on their portfolio throughout the year and answer six questions (samples at the end of the book) and upload a photo before submitting their individual portfolios to the society. The society then completes the portfolio before submitting it to the Societies' Office. All societies who have achieved the requirement standards are approved and forwarded.

This online system plus our online finance system, computerised signup method through YourSpace, and the Societies online control panel, all of which include effective archival data collection, is now allowing us to gain very valuable statistics and a quantitative look at the very real contribution which Societies make to campus life, the student experience, holistic learning and civic engagement in NUI Galway. The online methods we are using which include texting, a weekly What's happening guide e-mailed to 12809 plus our integrated calendar system and the success of the SocsBox (ticket and information desk) keep students engaged with societies and participation levels up. The next step increasing the usability and attractiveness of YourSpace and the opening of the new facilities in the refurbished Áras na Mac Léinn all augur very well for the future of Societies and their core fundamental importance to the University in this time of economic uncertainty. The skills acquired by students through their involvement, including problem solving, creativity, team building, entrepreneurial skills, communication are all skills which will be even more invaluable to set our students apart in an uncertain world.

Societies' Office Report

Múscailt is a co-production of the Societies and Arts office. Initially Fionnuala and I thought that our greatest challenge would be to find space as Áras na Mac Léinn was due to shut just prior to the festival. A week before the brochure was going to print we got the excellent news that the building would be available for the festival. This brought new headaches but after brain storming and getting the Societies on board we were able to embrace the opportunity and transform the building for the week and it became a central hub of activity and allowed us a dry run at what we will be able to achieve when all the new facilities are unveiled in September. The festival was a huge success with very positive feedback on its impact on the campus. The combination of high quality home grown society events and the intriguing programme organised by the Arts office seemed to capture the imagination and resulted in a colourful week which exploded with creativity and surprises and was truly embraced by the University community.

A big thank you to all involved for creating magic and to the University Foundation and Alumni Office for their continuing support. Ríona Hughes, Societies Officer.

FESTIVAL OPENING

The official opening for the Áras na MacLéinn Exhibitions took place on Mon. 9th at 6pm in the Hall in Áras na Mac Léinn, with special guest Jim Fitzpatrick internationally well-known Irish artists of his generation. Speeches were also provided by President Jim Brown and the Arts and Societies Officers. With the help of the societies the hall was transformed into a promenade performance space with theatrical/ art installations by the Drama, Choral, Nothing Specific, Chess, FanSci, Juggling and Musical Societies. Atmospheric lighting, beautiful balloon sculptures, refreshments and an enthusiastic crowd ensured the festival got off to a spectacular start. Immediately after the official opening the Society Exhibitions were opened in the Foyer followed by the first screening in 'The Space', having everything in the building kept up the momentum and augurs very well for the future of Áras na Mac Léinn.

FESTIVAL WRAP-UP-PARTY

This took place in the College Bar on Friday 13th and was co hosted by Múscailt and the Literary and Debating Society and law Society who were launching their National law Debates Weekend of activities. The Friday 13th theme saw the two societies bring a touch of horror to the bar. There was a record turn out for the event which was a fitting end to a fun packed week.

The festival brochure this year took its theme from the idea of an opening box exploding a cornucopia of artistic delights and was inspired by the idea that the transformed Áras na Mac Léinn when unwrapped in September will resemble such a box of delights. Cover art work by Conor Gallagher, Icon Design Consultancy and brochure design Shannon Reeves, Societies Office. The website www.muscailt.nuigalway.ie was designed by Rory Donoghue.

THE SPACE

The Space was an innovative creation of NUI Galway's Societies and the Societies Officer. In preparation for the University's new Centre of Culture, which is to replace the existing facilities of Áras na MacLéinn, students transformed a disused area of the campus into a creative and comfortable space, where guests and students were invited to come and relax, hang out, and enjoy some of the special featured events which were specially prepared for the festival. The Space was located on the second floor of Áras na MacLéinn, in the former Crunch Fitness area. It was simply and inexpensively transformed by the clever use of lights and drapes and painunder the guidance of the festival lighting director Pat Reilly. A team of society members joined Riona for the weekend to collaborate and let their creative juices flow, this even included a giant mural on one of the walls. The result was much appreciated by all who visited it and the Arts office volunteered manned the tea/ coffee and biscuits counter to add a homely touch. As an experiment on creative use of space and the potential of the new centre it more than achieve its aims.

WITLESS BATTLE OF THE BANDS

After four weeks of heats (Tuesday nights in the College Bar, 13th Jan—3rd Feb), the finalists squared up for the final showdown on Tuesday in the College Bar. As always, the coveted Witless prize, which includes time in a recording studio, guaranteed a night of intense musical competition which culminated in the audience and judging panel decisions. The bar was packed to capacity for this popular event.

ORCHESTRA RECITAL

On Monday in the Aula Maxima Upper, the Orchestra Society gave a rousing performance of Franz Schubert's Symphony No.2 in B flat major: a four movement work full of rich modulations, syncopations and high drama from beginning to end! The Second Symphony is a marvellous work written when Schubert was just eighteen years old and which was only first performed in public fifty years after the composer's death. Opening with an arresting slow introduction, the first movement is full of vigour and there is some beautiful work by the woodwinds to savour. The lyrical Andante is followed by a lively minuet. The finale recreates the joyful mood of the first movement including touches of humour. The orchestra has reached a very high standard and now combines a full wind and strings section of almost 50 strong and is conducted by Hugh Kelly.

DJSoc Spinoff Heats

DjSoc's top DJs battled it out for a place at the national DJ Competition, 'Spinoff '09' on Thursday night, in what turned out to be both a heated battle and an intensely enjoyable night of beats and dancing for all who attended.

CHORAL SOC DO CAMPUS & CD LAUNCH

This year Choral Soc celebrated Múscailt with their brand new CD, 'Flight of Voice'. As well as launching their CD at the Festival Opening, they added to the atmosphere on the evening with a selection of performances from their new repertoire. Choral Soc also continued their tradition of live performance around campus during Múscailt with Choral Soc Do Campus. Their performances brightened up Smokies Café and the James Hardiman Library on Wednesday between 1:00 and 2:00pm.

Dance-a-thon '09

A new event on the NUI Galway calendar, this was the biggest oncampus dance of the year. With an explosion of rhythms and styles from salsa to breakdancing, Dansoc demonstrated the moves in the hall of Áras na MacLéinn, before stepping back to let the crowd join in with the beat provided by DJ Soc.

MONSTER CÉILÍ

TradSoc & the International Students' Society hosted the most floorstompin' céilí on the NUI Galway calendar. Beginners are always welcome, with demonstrations and lessons provided; this was a great chance to bring native and international students together for a flavour of Irish culture in a fun-filled environment. Up to 20 musicians provided the music to a capacity audience.

MÍSE ERA & LUNATIC FRINGE '09

ArtSoc's annual visual art & sculpture exhibition this year was themed on 'Ireland through the Ages', and featured original pieces created by society members. The exhibition was launched by special guest Jim Fitzpatrick, one of the world's most renowned Celtic Artists. In addition, the Art Society launched the latest edition of their annual comic book, 'Lunatic Fringe'. The standard of work was very impressive and the societies Vice Auditor was awarded Best Fresher at the NUIG Society Awards '09.

Focus '09

MATHS & ART

This is the second year that MathSoc create an exhibition which united mathematics and art as part of the festival. This year's collection included a number of fascinating 3D models and mathematically derived artwork, as well as illustration of the links between mathematics and art in the works of famous artists like M. C. Escher. All three exhibitions took place in the foyer of Áras na Mac Léinn which worked very well as it provided a wealth of intriguing art for the viewers throughout the week.

A DAY IN THE LIFE

A new exhibition concept for the Múscailt festival, A Day in the Life presented a multimedia snapshot of a day in the life of NUI Galway, presented by PhotoSoc and RadioSoc in the AM Building. A host of photographs and audio recordings taken in a 24-hour period immersed visitors in an intimate portrait of campus life. Special thanks to the Arts office Volunteers who helped create and curate the event.

DISCO INFERNO BY JUSTIN SEPPLE

Working late in a London nightclub, 'Disco Inferno', Jack meets Lady Marmalade. Dreaming of becoming successful, he makes a pact with her, trading his soul to fulfil his wildest fantasies.

Galway University Musical Society's (GUMS) latest hit musical production was full of fantastic hits from the seventies, with numbers such as 'Hot Stuff', 'Celebration', and of course 'Disco Inferno', to name but a few! GUMS provided six unbeatable nights of entertainment for students and adults alike in the Black Box Theatre, as well as a matinee performance to cater to local schools and children. The show with a huge cast, back stage crew and musicians attracted record attendance thanks to their effective publicity campaign and the links they creates with Galway schools through their NUIG Schools Musical Awards. The Awards in their second year saw members of the society give workshops in dance, drama and singing to second level schools in County Galway plus they attended and adjudicated the musicals produced by all the participating schools. This culminated in an Oscars style gala awards ceremony on campus for the schools. The Musical society had kept a high profile on campus throughout the year by hosting a variety of events including the very popular NUIG's Got Talent Competition.

Radhairc as 'Mac Bheatha' le William Shakespeare. Sa bhliain 1925 d'aistrigh S. Labhrás Ó Súilleabháin Tragéid cháiliúil Shakespeare 'Macbeth' go Gaeilge agus chuir Nicholas Williams eagair air le déanaí.

Excerpt from 'Macbeth': the play, translated to Irish in 1925 by S. Labhrás Ó Súilleabháin and edited to modern Irish recently by Nicholas Williams. The play was performed in Aras na Gaeilge Amharclann with a particularly impressive and atmospheric witches scene.

DRAMSOC,S DOUBLE BILL

DramSoc presented a double bill of theatre in the Space, Áras na MacLéinn on Tuesday and Wednesday:

Mexican Standoff [by Gearoid Dempsey] 3 Friends... 2 Guns... 1 Shot. Performed in the round it made dramatic use of the space.

The World's Wife

Mephisto Theatre, alumni members of Dramsoc, returned by invitation to perform extracts from their spectacular production which received a new treatment in the intimate round setting.

SEANCHAS

The Nothing Specific Society hosted a storytelling evening inspired by traditional forms of Irish entertainment. The stories were loosely themed on ancient Irish Mythology. The event took place in Múscailt's specially created 'Space'.

ONE ACT PLAY SERIES

[THE JEROME HYNES MEMORIAL COMPETITION]

For the fourth year the Jerome Hynes Memorial Award was presented to the winning play in the One Act Play Series. Preparation for the One Act series started in September with a call for scripts. Scripts were submitted on very varied themes by the MA in Drama and Theatre Studies and the MA in Writing and two by undergraduates. The series was overseen by the Ríona Hughes and coordinated by Tara Mckevitt (Societies office). Once the plays were chosen writing workshops were provided by Brendan Murray. Dramsoc organised castings and the search for directors and rehearsals started before Christmas. In January each play was critiques by Rod Goodall in individual sessions. Technical workshops were provided, lighting, set and props was organised in conjunction with Dramsoc. One major challenge for Tara was finding rehearsal space for nine productions.

The plays were performed in three sets of three at lunch-time with an omnibus edition including adjudication on the Friday night all in the Bank of Ireland Theatre. The adjudicators were Roz Dixon (English Dept) and Andrew Flynn (Director GYT). The night ended with a feed back session and a party. Front of house support was provided by the Arts office volunteers. The standard was very high this year and the participants benefited from the process. DVD of all the plays have been produced by the Societies Office. Two of the plays have already gone on to receive professional productions and since its inception nine years ago numerous participants have gone on to form professional theatre companies.

Night of the Living Dead (1968) 96min [dir. G. A. Romero] A formative contribution to the zombie-horror genre.

Juggling Soc provided a comprehensive introduction to various juggling skills with their Juggling 101 class in the hall in a Áras na Mac léinn before wowing students with an outdoor fire juggling show in front of the Bank of Ireland Theatre.

CHESS MANIA!

Chess Soc's strongest member, Zaidan Zulikpli, played more than 20 simultaneous chess matches, a feat that tested him both mentally and physically, as he made over 100 moves an hour. Meanwhile, his opponents had plenty of time to ponder their own moves; nevertheless. Zaidan managed to win the majority of his games in an outstanding display of mental showmanship! This event also took place in the hall in Áras na Mac Léinn.
